History Of Thompson's Mill, Queensboro

A few years ago, Pigden Motor Sales Limited began a series of pictures of historical sites in the area on their calendars, complete with a run-down of the history of the place pictured. This year, the calendars feature the saw mill at Queensboro and, with permission, we are reproducing the story in the Review to share with our readers the valuable research which has gone into this, as follows:

In the 1830's a man named Mr. Riggs travelled up the Black River from Tyeed and built a saw-mill in Queensboro. At that time the village was known as "Cooksookie" (an Indian name).

By 1839 he had built a flour and feed mill in connection with the saw mill. Daniel Thompson, with his wife came by oxen to Queensboro and purchased the flour and feed mill from Mr. Riggs. This was early in the 1840's.

Prior to 1848, Mr. Thompson began work on a new home. The carpenter lived with the Thompson family. Work on the house took the best part of two years due to the fact the wood work was all hand done.

People began to clamour for a post-office but the government said they would have to choose a name other than "Cooksookie". Mr. Thompson chose the name Queensboro as it was the land sighted when leaving Ireland. He became the postmaster for Queensboro and established the first post office right in his own mill.

Early in the 1850's Mr. Thompson bought the saw-mill from Mr. Riggs and started logging on a larger scale on the west branch of the Black River. The Rathbun Lumbering Company were logging on the east branch in the Lingham Lake area. Both men used the Black River to bring their logs to Queensboro. Rathbun floated their logs on to Deseronto while Mr. Thompson's logs were sawed in Queensboro. The

SNOWMOBILE MISHAP

A Toronto man escaped with minor injuries when he lost control of his snowmobile and collided with a tree stump on New Year's Day. Apparently, Lyle David James of Toronto was driving a '69 Polaris snow vehicle south on the fifth concession of Marmora Township when the throttle stuck on the machine causing him to lose control.

Although the resultant injuries to Mr. James were only minor bruises, damages to the snowmobile were estimated at $200, according to the Madoc Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Madoc and District Skating Club Draw Winners

Madoc and district Skating Club held their draw for cash prizes on Wednesday evening, December 22nd during their regular skating classes.

Winners were as follows: 1st prize, $15.00, Jean Jones, St. Lawrence Street, Madoc; 2nd prize, $10.00, Wayne Hagerman, Madoc; 3rd prize, $5.00, Mrs. Chas. Dunham, Allenburg, Ontario.

Queensboro mill supplied Rathbun's with flour and feed during this time.

Since the 1830's when the mill was built by Mr. Riggs it has been owned by a number of hard working men such as Mr. Daniel Thompson. It was then sold to the Deseronto Milling Company which had it for two years then to Mr. Herbert Agnew, then Mr. Robert Fleming, Mr. Edmund Groves, Mr. Earnest Groves and then back to the present owner Mr. John Thompson who kept it in operation until about three years ago.

In the early days, the feed was shipped in by railway to Queensboro and to unload the cars the feed was all bagged and transported to the mill. This meant a lot of handling. After a number of years the mill ceased to operate to Queensboro. The grain was then shipped into Eldorado by railway and then loaded on a truck in a large steel box and delivered to the mill. This was a far easier way to handle grain.

Warden To Be Named January 18th

Hastings County Warden for 1972 will be selected and sworn in at the inaugural session of County Council on Tuesday, January 18th.

Five reeves are in the running for this year's honor of succeeding 1971 Warden Kenneth Smith of the Townships of Elzevir and Grimsthorpe. They are Horace Casey of Thurlow; Carman Gibson of Tyendinaga; Russell Sills of Huntingdon; Jack McKenzie of Faraday and George Lyons of Deseronto.

After 95 Years Name Changes

After being known as the "North Hastings Review" for the past 95 years, the weekly newspaper published in Madoc has received a new name.

In 1877, when the Review was first published, there being no newspaper north of here, a fitting name chosen was the "North Hastings Review."

Since then, with the development of other publications in the north part of the County, it seems more suitable that the paper serving central Hastings and being printed in Madoc, be called the "Madoc Review." The printing company is now the Madoc Review Limited.

NATURE TRAIL PROVIDES AT LEAST FORTY JOBS

Administrators of the nature trail project, which will stretch from Lake Ontario to Algonquin Park, claim as many as 40 people are expected to be working on the program by the end of January.

At a meeting in the Belleville office on the weekend, Grant Harvey, project administrator said "it is not humanly possible to guarantee the figure, but if all goes well with the research team and the weather holds, this figure would not be out of line."

Mr. Harvey also mentioned that the total of jobs made available by the project may be increased because of unspent money.

"We have money budgeted for the months of November and December which will have to be used," said Mr. Harvey.

Mr. Harvey could not be definite on the number of extra jobs, over and above the 62 mark but did say it would depend on the type of work needed.

"We can have a large number for a reasonably short time, or a smaller number for an obviously longer time and it will depend on the need of the foreman," he said.

Area offices have been set up for the running of the program and they will be in Picton for Prince Edward County, Belleville as a main office serving the area from the bay to the Highway 7, and the last in Gilmour, serving the northern areas.

Already a concern of the committee handling the project is what will happen when federal backing is removed at the end of May.

Under the local initiatives program, the federal government will sponsor the trail only until the end of May and at that time other funds must be found.

The Belleville and District Employment Committee is approaching both the federal and provincial governments, hoping to find the solution.

"What might happen," said Mr. Harvey, "is that an association could be formed to handle the project."

Mr. Harvey mentioned that in many cases of trails, government aid has been relaxed and groups have taken over the maintenance. He mentioned specifically the Bruce Trail on the Bruce Peninsula.

Mr. Harvey explained that during the coming month, 15 researchers would be going out into the field to survey the area and determine what natural resources could be used.

"It is after these people make their findings and prepare a plan of a route, that the others can go to work," Mr. Harvey explained.

"A foreseeable way of completing the program would be to perhaps take advantage of the Opportunities for Youth Program if it is run again this coming summer," said Mr. Harvey. "You can't tell what the government is going to do."

All work on the trail will be done simultaneously from north to south.

TAX FORMS NOW IN THE MAIL

You may not want to be reminded of it so early in the new year — yet this item means money in the pocket for two out of three readers.

What you may not want to be reminded of is that National Revenue, Taxation, are now mailing out personalized tax forms. The big mailing operation began this first week of January.

The cheerful aspect of this message is that roughly two out of three of the more than 9,000,000 Canadians who complete these forms and mail them on or before the April 30 deadline will receive refunds of amounts varying from a few dollars up to many hundreds.

The forms are now being distributed to the various postal areas of the country and mailmen will be making the rounds with them during these first two weeks of January.

These forms are used to report income and total up exemptions and make deductions on 1971 income.

Parliament has just carried out sweeping reforms of the tax laws, but this has nothing to do with one's tax return on income in 1971 when the old law was in force.

Since there might be some confusion, the Department of National Revenue, Taxation, underlines the fact that in filing your return on 1971 income during the next few months, you should forget about tax reform. The revised tax laws begin to apply on 1972 income and will have to be taken into consideration in filing returns a year from now.

Since about two-thirds of Canadian taxpayers receive refund cheques each year, it is obviously in one's own best interests to file returns early and to provide complete and accurate information. The heavy volume of returns received at the Department's Data Centre in Ottawa near the end of the April 30 filing season each year, together with errors and missing information in some returns, are the main factors in slowing down the mailing of refund cheques to taxpayers.

APPLE WAS SWEET

By BILL SMILEY

Looking back on 1971, I find it contains the year's usual melange of the good and evil, the sweet and bitter, the lily worm within the luscious apple.

An old friend, Don McCuaig of Renfrew, won the Best Newspaper award among Canada's weeklies. I've thought for several years that he had the best weekly in the country (sorry about that, all you other chaps who turn out first-class weeklies), but never got around to telling him.

On the other side of the fence, I read an editorial in the Bowmanville Statesman, an old, established, many times winner of prizes, written from his hospital bed by another old friend, John James. This shook me a bit.

Haven't seen Don McCuaig for some years, but we have an old pact. He was in the army and one day was being slightly harassed by Hun 88's, a fearsome gun, if ever there was. A flight of Typhoons came over and silenced the Jerry guns. We met at a newspaper convention and he promised me he'd buy me the biggest and best dinner I could eat every time we got together, because I'd been a Typhoon pilot. And he still sends an annual invitation to come trout fishing in the Ottawa Valley, the natural place of many great men, like us.

Last time I saw John James, he and two gigantic sons were whaling golf balls at a weeklies' tournament, while I puddled along with my usual slices, hooks and various blunders of the links. Get well, John, and hit them a mile.

Here's a clipping and note from Tommy Lee, former weekly editor and now PR man with Royal Trust. He, too, was a pilot. The clipping is about the big aircrew reunion in Winnipeg and the note chides me for not hobnobbing with the mob. I wanted to go, Tommy, but my wife wouldn't let me. She didn't want me shipped home in a casket.

And here's a note from Walter Koyanagi of the Taber, Alta., Times, giving me hell for using the term "Japs" in a column. He claims that the word "Jap" is derogatory and objectionable. To me, it's just an abbreviation. He also doubts if I would call a German or Italian other than such in public print. See above Walter. I wouldn't give a diddle if somebody called Canadians "Cans". In fact, it might be suitable. Many of us have the figure and the mental resilience of a can.

Here's a huge newspaper from Oromocto, N.B., in which I learn that a dear old friend, George Cadogan, who actually got this column going, can't resist the smell of printers' ink and has got back into the scramble of running a weekly, after a letter swearing that he was going to take it easy and spend the winter in Spain. Take it easy, George. Oromocto is a long way from Majorca. But good luck, Lord Thomson of the Martimes.

And the bitter. News that a close friend of my wife's, a dedicated Catholic nun, and one of the most vibrant, cheery personalities one could meet, is seriously ill. Young in age and spirit, she resists my firm conviction that God does not "see the little sparrow fall." Bless her.

Here's a buoyant letter from my Uncle Ivan, who has suffered the tragic loss of a brilliant son, and the death of his wife in a stupid car accident, is 79, and is off to Florida, and thinks he'll drive this time.

And just before Christmas, friends of ours lost a little six-year-old angel of a girl, who was pitilessly smashed to rags in a stupid, unnecessary car accident, on her way home from school.

And so it goes: the bitter and the sweet, the good and bad, the joyous and the tragic. Life: and it's the only one we have.

I don't want to spoil a mood, or appear frivolous, but we have the whole thing distilled in our Christmas vacation with two cats.

We have a fat, neutered lady called Pip, bequeathed to us by Kim when she left home.

Well, Pip has established the fact that she is queen of her own domain. She chases everything from squirrels to butterflies to spiders out of her backyard in summer, and deigns to spend the winter eating and sleeping.

Home from college comes Kim, sneaking in a box with air-holes, the rauciest, randiest young tomcat you've ever laid eyes on. For the first few days, Pip tried to lay down the law as to whom the house belonged to. The pre-Christmas air was rent with howls and screams as they clashed. I'd put one in the cellar, the other in the back johnnie.

Finally, fat old Pip got too pooped to participate. After a few days, they decided to co-exist, and now spend their time chasing each other up the drapes and over the upholstery.

Maybe there's a message here, somewhere. The good and the bad, the bitter and the sweet, are part of life, and we can either accept it or run away from it.

Xmas Eve Service Enjoyed

An impressive Christmas Eve Service was held in Bethesda United Church with Reverend Douglas W. Heard, Minister in the pulpit.

The "Christmas Crib" portraying the Christmas story was under the direction of Mrs. Goldie McInroy with Mrs. Reginald Haggerty as pianist and their choir of fifteen members harmoniously singing between Scripture readings by Reverend Heard. The choir gowned young people were most effective, formed in a semi circle around the spot lighted Christmas Crib and lighted star. Following the lovely service Reverend and Mrs. Heard were hosts to the congregation with a social hour and wishing everyone a "Merry Christmas".

AROUND THE HOUSE WITH CURLING

This week we are going to depart a little from the usual curling instructions and strategy and discuss the highlight of the years curling experiences, which are the bonspiels.

BONSPIELS

The height of the curlers enthusiasm reaches its peak when each local club plays host to its annual bonspiels. Generally referred to as "Spells", this is a series of games, four to five, depending on the amount of teams entered, and generally, there are games played until there is a winner declared.

In a point spell, there are points given much the same as our local turkey spell and these are totalled up at the end of three games. Then there are prizes awarded for the high three, high two and high one games winners.

The other method is set up in events, whereby all winning teams remain in the first event. They remain in play until they lose their third game or any after that.

The teams losing their first game drop to the second event, where they continue play unless they lose their third game at which time they are eliminated.

The third event is for teams which lose their second game after winning their first and the fourth event, if there is one, is for teams who lose their first two games. At the first two events, a team which loses its third game is automatically out of the playdowns.

An entry fee is charged by the local clubs for their bonspiels. This does not apply to the Ontario Curling Association Playdowns, sponsored by the O.C.A., whereby each club is allowed one competing team.

These are generally played off in December or early January. This allows a winning team to compete for the Ontario Championship.

Again, on the local scene, each competing team is guaranteed three games, plus supper on the last day of the bonspiel.

Prizes are awarded to the finalist in each event and also sometimes to the semi-finalists, depending on the individual clubs setup. These prizes vary in value from five to thirty dollars per curling member.

Bonspiels are a good source of keen curling competition, with neighbouring clubs and are also a source of making new friends, many of whom you continue to meet year after year. Many an enjoyable weekend can be had around the house with curling.

CURLING PATTERN

Due to the holiday season last week a number of our curlers did not curl, but the rink was open for any interested curlers and we had a good number turn out even though the weather was not very co-operative. There were a number of new interested curlers turn up and every one had a good time.

New skip, Dick Jones is still rolling full steam ahead and now has a total of five wins to his credit. He is currently tied with second year skip, Larry Stickwood.

During the past week, Stirling club held a Cheese and Wine Spell on two evenings. Our club was represented by the team of Bob Bateman; vice, Lorna Twiddy; second, Ray Twiddy; and lead, Audrey Bateman. They were quite successful in this spell. They lost the first game (but went on to win two very close games to come in the prizes. They were the recipients of five pounds of cheese per couple and a bottle of wine. Lorna Twiddy was doubly lucky as she went home with the door prize, another five pounds of cheese.

Tom and Ruth Burnside and Ray and Lorna Twiddy will curl in a one-day point spell in Tweed this weekend.

Two teams will also represent the club in the Stirling Men's Bonspiel, also to be held this weekend.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

(By BEV. BROWNING)

A recent letter to the editor of a Toronto newspaper was brought to my attention last week concerning contract rules for young hockey unhappy playing with one team cannot be released unless the manager players. In this letter a parent was complaining about how a boy who is of the team wishes to do so. This parent wants these minor league rules geared for the benefit of the young, not just for the concern of the adults.

Well in a way there are pros and cons on this subject. A players contract as mentioned by this irate parent is commonly known as a player's card. The information written on these cards includes his name, address, date of birth and the "players signature". These cards serve two important purposes. First, it verifies the players age. A birth certificate must be sent with the card to the O.M.H.A. secretary-manager to prove that the boy is the age the card states. This is to keep a team from adding rangers who are over age and possibly a small player or to verify that, that six foot three player you have on defence is only twelve years old. Secondly, the player's signature that appears on the player's card must match the signature he writes on the game card he signs before each game he plays. Any coach and manager who uses an over age player, and this can be proven, can be suspended, for life from coaching or managing in any O.M.H.A. series. This I feel, you can figure out is a "pro" in this argument on player's cards.

In villages the size of Madoc, a player can sign a card in his own series and if he is good enough can sign a card in a series higher than his own. This is possible only in his own town. If he signs two cards he is first committed to his own series. When he signs a player's card he cannot play for another team unless he is first released by the team in which he first signed. In small villages this doesn't create much of a problem but in a city the size of Toronto there may be as many as ten to twenty teams in an area. Many of these teams are sponsored from skates to a complete hockey outfit. With these sponsors each team strives to be first. The players signed for the season must play for the team unless they get the player's release signed by the manager.

The letter states that the boy is unhappy with the team he has chosen. It doesn't state why he is unhappy. There might be many reasons. His team could be losing more than it is winning or it could be under poor coaching and managing. The above is just two possible reasons. If it is the latter reason, then the parent has good reason to complain. But the parent should have checked this out before his son signed a player's card. So many parents just send the boys to the rink and after the season is half over he starts to criticize the hockey rules and regulations.

Let us just suppose the player wasn't bound to his team by a player's card. What are the possibilities. First, in a ten team league you would likely find two very strong teams and eight weak teams. Secondly, you would find these highly sponsored teams offering gifts beyond reason to attract the good players. Is this what we call enjoyment? Professionals as early as eight and nine years old! Play for what you can get not just for the sake of learning to play hockey.

This coin however, has two sides. Many players are very unhappy playing for teams because the coach expects too much from them or they might be ridiculed by fellow players. This is when a parent has a legitimate beef. One solution seems to be: before your child signs a card, find out as much as you can about the team and its coaching staff. If he is unhappy with a team, hold a conference with the coach and see if you can find out what the problem is. Anger solves nothing. Understanding by both parties may solve the problem. As far as the rules are concerned, unless you have something more concrete to offer you might as well go along with the rules we have.

Yours truly on behalf of Minor Sports would like to congratulate the "Madoc Review" on its first anniversary and many thanks for the fine coverage of sports events in Madoc and District in 1971. May your success continue in 1972 to become even bigger and better. Many sports fans will agree with me that our sports coverage is the finest in Centre Hastings.

Five years in Kingston Penitentiary at hard labour was the sentence handed out yesterday to Harry Schulz of Tavistock, and Gordon Brickman, of Stratford, found guilty of having broken into the cellar of W. J. Naylor on the night of October 19th and stealing a large quantity of wines and liquors.

Last week while Ex-Reeve Jeffries was out in the woods felling a tree, a limb from a falling tree struck him on the head rendering him unconscious. Although Mr. Jeffries has recovered consciousness, his condition is critical.

The kind of weather we have been having in Madoc up to at least the last week, may be better understood by reading the story from a branch of a lilac bush which Mr. Frank Daffoe left in this office last Saturday. This branch was taken from a bush on the north side of a building about 75 yards north of the Review Office. This branch bore some almost fully developed leaves and a number of buds ready to burst into leaves. Of course it would only be proper to state that since Mr. Daffoe left this exhibit of mild weather we have had some real winter weather with the thermometer registering as low as 20 degrees below zero.

Weddings — A very pretty wedding took place in the St. Andrews Church at Simpson, Saskatchewan on Tuesday, December 20th at high noon when Verna Olive, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Bird, became the bride of Richard Edison Brown, Rev. R. C. Atchison officiating.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Central Methodist Church Parsonage, Toronto, at six o'clock on December 28th, when Aletha May, eldest daughter of P. S. and the late Mrs. Coulter of Brighton became the bride of Mr. Samuel Phillip Greaves, Dental College, Toronto, and only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Greaves of Millbridge, Ontario, Rev. J. Bruce Hunter officiated.

Two persons are dead and three others in serious condition in Belleville hospital as a result of a head-on collision early Christmas morning between two cars on Highway No. 14, one and one-half miles west of Foxboro. The dead are Robert J. Gannon, aged 28, of Belleville, and Miss Hilda M. Beary, aged 22, also of Belleville. The injured were Miss Helen Munroe, Belleville, a passenger in the Gannon vehicle, and Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Vandervoort of Stirling.

Estimated damage of $3,000 occurred in a fire which threatened to destroy the building at the plant of The Tweed Steel Works last Saturday, December 20th. Prompt response by the fire department confined loss to one section of the premises.

Three large wolves were sighted at Murray's Rapids in Moira River, on Wednesday morning by P. Murphy and his three sons who were cutting wood on their property. The wolves were on the property of Vincent Terrior, and after a short halt travelled eastwards. John Cross, who has resided in the near vicinity for about sixty years, said that these wolves being seen about a mile and a half from Deloro, had come the closest to the village of any for a great number of years.

Births — Rev. W. J. and Mrs. Robinson (nee Isobel Morton), Tweed wish to announce the birth of a son, Thomas Morton, on December 24th, 1947, at the Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fothergill (nee Marjorie Hill), 189 Foster Ave., Belleville, wish to announce the birth of a daughter, on Tuesday, December 23rd, at Belleville General Hospital.

Death — In Peterborough, on December 10, 1947, suddenly, Barbara Jacqueline Wellman, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wellman.

ARDA Grant For Land Use Study

The Hon. Wm. A. Stewart, Ontario Minister of Agriculture and Food, and the Hon. Jean Marchand, Canada Minister of Regional Economic Expansion have announced plans by ARDA for an agricultural land use study in southern Ontario. The findings of the study would provide guidelines for formulating public planning policy with emphasis on the preservation of suitable agricultural land for future food requirements. The specific objectives of the research are:

1. to assemble the information available in a form that will be useful to decide which areas should be committed to agriculture.
2. to identify the key factors affecting agricultural land use and the directions of change over the next 20 years.
3. to determine the interactions between agriculture and the environment.
4. to suggest priorities and identify the policy issues and their means of implementation.

Although Ontario still has surplus agricultural land to fill present food needs, urban and industrial demands for land are increasing in parts of southern Ontario. Since land converted from agriculture to urban and industrial uses cannot be retrieved, plans must be instituted now to preserve agricultural land required for future food production.

This study will be undertaken by a team of researchers from the University of Guelph and will be completed in about six months.

Siberian Huskies Becoming Popular

These Siberian Huskies from Nekanesu Kennels at R.R. 1, Eldorado, were on display before Christmas one afternoon on the corner at Ray's Sport Shop and offered for sale by the owner, Mr. Donald McEwen.

One of the friendliest of all Northern Breeds, The Siberian Husky is a native of the Kolyma River district of Northern Siberia. They have a long history of that of a family companion and general work in the Northern region. They are very alert and intelligent and may be trained for almost any type of work. They are naturally gentle and quickly adjust to new surroundings; thus they are becoming very popular in Canada and the U.S. as an all round companion and sled dog.

Generally, they are very quiet compared to other members of the dog family. Their coat is odour free and of a very soft texture consisting of a downy under coat and a thick soft outer coat. They may appear in almost any colour including different shades of grey, black and white, red or even, occasionally, pure white. Their eyes are sometimes brown, or blue, and some even have one of each. They are some times known as the dog with the peculiar eyes.

They are a medium size dog. Males weigh from 45 to 60 lbs. and females weigh from 35 to 50 lbs. They take very little care and, for their size, are very small eaters. They move with a free, tireless gait and this no doubt is the reason they work so well as a sled dog on long trips.

Mr. McEwen says pups are born at the kennels occasionally, but before the dogs are bred or shown, he wants them to prove their abilities as a working dog.

The pups sell for $150.00, breeding stock, and $25.00, pet stock; $100.00, for stud service. Sleds and harnesses are available.

FROM CITY TO COUNTRY COFFEE SHOP

In the past year the buildings on an old farm on the Flinton Road have taken on a completely new look.

It all began when two Toronto families, Wes and Julia Mundie and Alphe and Margaret Godin, became tired of the hustle and bustle of the city and decided to give country living a try.

Looking for a farm, the couples finally found the ideal one, known in the Actinolite area as the Tebo farm, on Hastings Road 2, one mile north off Highway 7. It was perfect — lots of land, river frontage, a barn and a house large enough to accommodate two families. Wes, a data processing manager, Alphe, an assembler, Julia, a key punch operator and Margaret, a bookkeeper, commuted back and forth from Toronto each weekend and with the help of family and friends soon changed the interior of the house. Paint, wallpaper, rugs, running water and bathroom were all on the list of jobs done.

The end of January saw Wes and his family move in, 35 degrees below zero and all the way from electric heat to a wood furnace. Wes started work at Miller Brothers in Trenton and still commutes daily.

Early spring brought the start of their plans into action. First, a trailer park for campers. Toilets and tables were built in the barn and then moved to the field later on. A road was built down through the field and a water line for running water ran parallel to it. Then the first major problem popped up, the well they had drilled came up dry. The second well had lots of water but was in fine sand and caved in.

The third well, dry, but alas the fourth one brought water, clear and pure. The trailer park was open, but too late to continue with any success for this year.

Alphe and Marg had moved up in early summer, much to their liking as that weekend drive was getting pretty rough to take and Alphe started working immediately at Wilsons Concrete. Then came the second part of their plans, a coffee shop for snowmobilers. First a building was required. Well, there stood a barn, with most of it still in excellent condition. The barn was gutted and cleaned, beams and boards were replaced where required. All cracks between the boards had to be covered with wooden strips. It took Wes and Alphe six weeks working nights and weekends to cover those cracks. By the time that was finished, it was mutually agreed that they were seeing those cracks in their sleep. The floor was relaid, a vapour insulation barrier was put in the walls, then insulation. A new floor of plywood was laid and finally the walls were covered with boards from the grainery and hayloft of the barn. Then a little coffee shop in one corner of the floor. Wes and Alphe weren't alone, both girls pitched in doing whatever they could. They now say they are full fledged carpenters. John Calcourt, a former helper of the house pitched in to help, as he was working at Wilson's also. Wes and Alphe say that if it hadn't been for John they could have been considerably later than their target date of December 3 for opening. While everyone was working, Julia's mother, Mary Rae, tended house and looked after Eric and Steven Wes and Julia's two boys.

A name for the coffee shop was required, and thanks to Margaret and Julia, "THE HAYLOFT" was selected. After all, what would be more original.

On Dec. 3rd they opened to a crowd of 55 people who came from Actinolite, Tweed, Queensboro, Ottawa, Toronto, Burlington, Pickering and even Elliott Lake.

The Hayloft is geared for snowmobilers as the heating is meant for snow suits not shirt sleeves. About 75 acres of the property (portion beside and behind The Hayloft) is set aside for snowmobilers, no charge. Trails in the other 300 acres are being marked and cleared and will be opened later in the winter.

A large sitting room for "thawing out" offers their guests a chance to sit and enjoy music or to watch television for some relaxation from their travelling, whether it be by snowmobile or other vehicle.

Future plans for The Hayloft (next year) include flush toilets, more floor space, dancing area, fireplace, and a better heating system.

Plans for the trailer park next year include hydro sites, large swimming area, dumping station, children's playground and nature trails.

Both families are extremely happy, living in their new surroundings and as they say, it is even a wonderful feeling to be able to say hello to whoever you meet, whether you know them or not, without getting a weird look in return.

A TRIBUTE TO DR. A. B. WHYTOCK

(Taken from the Niagara Falls Review)

"A Prince and Leader, has fallen," so spoke an ancient writer about an outstanding citizen of his time.

As we in our day think of the passing of Dr. Whytock, we can say the same words — "A Prince and a Leader has fallen."

He served his country well, in days of war in England, Egypt and in France.

Then in days of peace for almost half a century he gave himself to the Medical Profession with untiring devotion, and shared in the progress made in the field of Medicine.

He took part in an era of many changes. When he began his career the treatment of patients was largely in their homes. He shared the transition period that marked the rapid development of the modern Hospital. The large and efficient

Hospital in our City owes much to his insight, foresight and good judgment.

In his practice he showed an unusual interest in his patients, and won the loyalty — even affection — of those he served from the humblest to the highest.

He gave his support to organizations whose purpose was to relieve suffering and promote Good Will.

The Medical Profession in Canada recognized his worth and called upon him to serve on the Councils of the Profession over the country.

His first concern was people. We will never know the number of hearts and homes into which he brought healing, hope, courage and comfort. As was said of Joseph Chamberlain the Great British Parliamentarian and humanitarian, "He lit many fires in cold rooms."

So we say, "A Prince and a Leader has fallen in our Land, but his Spirit is still with us."

Rev. W. Fingland.
(Rev. W. Fingland was Dr. Whytock's pastor and confidant, for almost half a century).

COOPER AND REMINGTON W.I.

The regular meeting of Cooper and Remington W.I. was held on Thursday evening, December 16th at the home of Mrs. R. Rollins. Mrs. Rollins welcomed everyone to our Christmas meeting.

The meeting opened with the Mary Stewart Collect and the Institute Ode. Mrs. Rollins then read some Christmas thoughts. The roll call "your favourite recipe and exchange it" was answered by 18 adults and 2 children.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. C. Fitzgerald. The collection was taken.

A discussion re Mentally Retarded followed. It was moved by Mrs. C. Fitzgerald and seconded by Mrs. K. Cleveland that we take a special collection to be given to Retarded Children, Plainfield.

It was moved by Mrs. A. Clarke and seconded by Mrs. C. Fitzgerald that Mrs. F. Bailey and Mrs. F. Stein be leader and assistant leader, respectively, for the next "Girl's Club".

Several other letters were read and dealt with.

The next meeting is at Mrs. L. McCoy's on January 19th at 2:00 p.m.

Mrs. C. Keene favoured with two solos and several other carols with Mrs. Keene at the piano. Mrs. L. Parks had a Bible Quiz. The meeting closed with "O Canada". Lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants.

TRINITY U.C.W. UNIT 2

Mrs. A. Burris was hostess for the Christmas meeting of Trinity U.C.W. Unit 2. There were seven members and one visitor present.

The programme was a Christmas pageant using the story of the Nativity. The two narrators were Miss Raney and Mrs. L. Sickwood. Grouped about the manger scene were the Shepherds, Kings, Wise Men and Angels. Appropriate carols were sung at certain times. At the close Mrs. J. McGowan had a reading.

The roll call was answered by members presenting the money from their apron bank. The Treasurer reported on the Tea and Bazaar and proceeds were very gratifying.

It was decided for a Christmas Project that members call on the lonely and 'shut-ins, to go in pairs and all the same day if possible. Mrs. C. Derry spoke briefly. Thirty-eight sick calls were reported.

Mrs. R. Graham thanked the hostess and those who served a dainty Christmas lunch. A social half hour followed.

TRANSPORT BUSINESS SOLD AFTER 22 YEARS

After twenty-two years of operation under the Lough name, Lough and Lyons Transport has changed ownership, and with the change has come a new name.

Now known as Ross Clark Freightways Limited, the trucking business was originally bought by Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Lough from Mr. Arthur Bird in 1949. A first licensed for offering long distance hauling as "E. J. Lough Transport", in July of that year, Mrs. Lough recalls that the very first truck they owned was a four-wheel drive army truck. They had operated dump trucks prior to buying the transport business from Mr. Bird. In 1964 Mr. Lough passed away and in June 1965 Mrs. Lough officially took over the business and had the license transferred in her name. Mr. Harold Lyons, who had been a driver for the company for a number of years, became a partner with Mrs. Lough in July, 1967. Under this partnership, the business became "Lough and Lyons" Transport Limited in October, 1969, a title it has kept until its sale this winter.

One of the highlights in the history of Lough and Lyons Transport was the awarding of a ten-year pin for no accidents to driver, Ron Gordon. As well, another driver, Bob Embury, who is no longer with the company, received a four-year safe-driver award.

And now, Mr. Ross Clark is the new owner of Lough and Lyons Transport and the only change made to the business is the company name under which it will be operated. He officially took over the business from Mrs. Ferguson (formerly Mrs. Lough) and Mr. Lyons on December 31st, 1971.

Mr. Clark, his wife Carolann, and their two public-school age children, Cameron 9, and Heather 6, came here from Toronto, where he worked in the construction business. They have moved here and are residing in the large Lough home on Victoria Street. Mr. Clark tells us that he owns the homestead farm at Dundalk, which has been in the family name since it was first purchased in 1875 by his great grandfather, Archibald Clark. The Clark family's love of the quiet country life at that 200-acre farm is what first inspired them to get away from the hustle and bustle of the city which resulted in the purchase of the transport business and the 70-acre Lough property. The business will continue to be operated from the office on the property, with Mrs. Dorothy Bjordahl doing the bookkeeping. The driving personnel will not change, as the four men, Ron Gordon, Rayburn Trotter, Bill Falladown and Clem Trexerton, will continue to operate the trucks.

At present, Ross Clark Freightways Limited will be operating with the five tractors and nine trailers previously owned by Lough and Lyons Transport, but Mr. Clark says he is planning to expand the equipment in the future.

The Clark family is very pleased with their move and already feel quite at home in Madoc.

Madoc and District Senior Citizens

The Madoc and District Senior Citizens Club held their first meeting of the new year on January 5th at the United Church basement. In the absence of Miss Raney, Secretary, Mrs. Johns acted as Secretary for

Letter To Parents

Dear Parents:

Congratulations are extended to the Centre Hastings Secondary School students who were finalists of 330 students writing the three safety quiz questionnaires. These questionnaires were provided by the Industrial Accident Prevention Association and conducted by the technical teaching staff. The top ten winners were: Carl Pigden, Glen Spicer, Brent Hegadoren, Donald Derochie, Steven Potter, Don Kirkpatrick, Laverne Chalk, John Maloney, Joe Vanderwey, and Barbara Keller.

All the students taking technical subjects wrote these tests and should be complimented on the excellent effort put forth.

Winter Carnival Committee Meets

Now that everyone has tossed out their Christmas trees, the Madoc Winter Carnival Committee decided to hold another meeting to plan for this year's Carnival. Nineteen members met in the Public Library on January 5th.

This year there should be no conflict of dates, as Belleville will hold their Carnival on February 4-5-6; Tweed, February 11-12-13 and Bancroft on February 25-26-27.

Many of the events are to be the same as last year. The Carnival Queen will be chosen by the Odd-fellow and Rebekah Lodges. Come on, Girls, do you want to be this year's Queen?

The Torchlight parade is scheduled for Friday evening, followed by a dance in the Kiwanis Centre and possibly a Teen Dance at Centre Hastings.

The Royal Canadian Legion will hold a dart and cribbage tournament on Saturday afternoon and a dance at night.

On Saturday night, the Madoc Figure Skating Club will present Carpa Capers. What a show they gave last year and this one promises to be better.

Centre Hastings Secondary School has planned inter-house competitions for the week of the Carnival, as well as a basketball tournament on Saturday. They will likely have snow sculpturing again. Do you recall "Snoopy" and his house and that big tank from last year?

An added feature this year will be the Ontario Provincial Police Mobile Trailer. It will be parked in the downtown area on Saturday and at the Fairgrounds on Sunday. This is a very interesting display.

CORRECTION

Last week in the Review we published the story of Thompson's saw mill at Queensboro and regret that, through no fault of ours or of Pigden Motor Sales, the name of one owner of the mill was omitted.

The part reading "It was then sold to the Deseronto Milling Company which had it for two years and then to Mr. Herbert Squires" was in error.

In correction, the Deseronto Milling Company sold out to Mr. Tom Nicol, who in turn, sold to Mr. Squires.

Eastern Ontario Concert Orchestra To Return

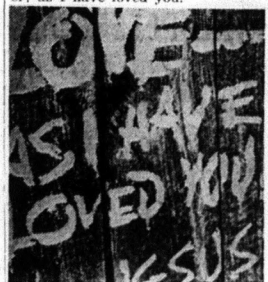

The Kiwanis Clubs of Madoc and Tweed would like to express their appreciation to those who supported this fine project.

The audience was treated to a variety of musical selections and their approval was loudly expressed. The orchestra has accepted an invitation to return and present a different program in the fall.

The Kiwanis Clubs are considering providing bus transportation from Marmora and Tweed to Madoc for the next event.

WEEK OF PRAYER FOR CHRISTIAN UNITY

The cause of Christian Unity has made more progress in the past twenty-five years than for many centuries. Each year the Canadian Council of Churches and the Canadian Catholic Conference jointly sponsors what is called the WEEK OF PRAYER FOR CHRISTIAN UNITY. The theme for this year is based on the New Testament passage (John 13:34), "I give you a new commandment: love one another, as I have loved you."

It is this LOVE which brings the Churches together in prayer and fellowship. Ecumenical services of worship will be held in many parts of the world. Locally it will be observed by a special Service sponsored by the Madoc and District Ministerial, in Sacred Heart of Mary Roman Catholic Church, Sunday, January 16th, 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Peter Murphy will conduct the Service and the Rev. Everett Hawkes will speak.

Why a special Week of Prayer? Prayer for unity can and should take place throughout the year. The Week of Prayer is the particular occasion for Christians to reassert their commitment to working for unity. It is a reminder that there can be no genuine obedience which is not open to fellow-Christians of every background and in every part of the world. In short, it is an opportunity for churches and Christians to experience and illustrate their love and oneness in Christ.

BOWLING NEWS

A number of Madoc Merchants have arranged a first for this district in bowling.

Our bowlers will soon have multi-colour, white bond paper score sheets easier to write on not as tearable as the ordinary paper in use in most places.

These "score merchants" have also arranged to recognize and reward with a handsome, useful trophy, bowlers competing in unusual categories. Each trophy will bear the name of the sponsoring merchant and will be retained by the winners.

Who are the merchants? They are the advertisers on the score sheets.

Drop into Madoc Bowling Lanes, see the sheets, view the trophies and get the details. You could be one of the winners.

MINOR HOCKEY POOL WINNER

This week's winner in the Minor Sports 30-50 draw was Number 92 Harold Francis, of Crookston.

AND YOU COULD BE PART OF ALL THIS

By BILL SMILEY

This is the time when pundits across the land speculate in type about what the coming year will bring forth. If there is one thing we don't need more of in this country, it is pundits.

We have political pundits, economic pundits, sports pundits. Most of them spend most of their verbiage disagreeing with other pundits in the same field.

What is a pundit? It is a person who knows a little more about practically nothing than we non-pundits.

Having unburdened myself of those sour sentiments, I now propose to leap into some punditry (punditizing?) concerning 1972. Read carefully, now, so that you'll have a clear picture of what we shall face this year.

Most parts of Canada will have lots of snow. I hope nobody will give me an argument on that one. Right now outside my window, it looks like plucking day at the chicken factory.

The population, taxes, and your fuel bill will increase. This statement is not based on fact but on pure intuition. Especially the part about taxes. According to some of the rosy statements in the new tax reform bill hustled through parliament, I will pay less taxes this year, about enough less to buy an overcoat from the Salvation Army.

But they can't fool an old taxpayer like me. I know with sickening clarity that if one level of government hands me a few bucks, some other level will be digging three times as much out of my back pocket.

The wage-price spiral will continue, though perhaps not as rapidly. The reason? We're all greedy as pigs at a trough. And the biggest pigs — the strongest unions and the most firmly entrenched capitalists — will get more out of the trough than the runts, the ordinary Joes.

There will be a federal election, and whoever wins, there will be promises galore, new brooms being waved in all directions, and the country, according to the pundits, will still be going straight to the dogs.

The churches will continue to be one-third filled and scrambling for enough money to stay alive. But there will be a continuing search for some sort of spiritual experience by our youth.

Thousands who are now merely a gleam in somebody's eye, will be born. And good luck to them when they enter a mighty complex world. Thousands will die, and let's just hope you and I are not among them. I don't want to go until I get my mortgage paid off. Isn't that the supreme purpose of living?

Thousands of kids will experiment with drugs and some of them will end up tragic figures, shattered human beings. But thousands of others will ignore the chance of becoming vegetables, and will lead happy, healthy, useful lives, loving and learning, sad and happy.

Unemployment will continue to be a fairly desperate situation. And the schools will again be jammed to the rafters with students who shouldn't be there and don't want to be there, but for whom there is nothing else to do.

There will be thousands of broken homes and marriages turned to dust. But there will be thousands of dreamy-eyed brides and proud young grooms, positive that nothing could ever happen to their love, which is something special.

There will be wars that have no victories, and peace conferences that go on interminably proceeding from nowhere to nowhere. The United Nations will again announce that it is going broke, but nobody will ante up enough to pay the bills.

Thousands of bright young people will emerge from college, spilling over with knowledge, and come face to face with that brutal edict: you can't get a job with no experience, and you can't get experience until you get a job. But thousands of others will break their backs to get into college, where they will learn all about life and find the mate of their choice.

Does this all sound sort of familiar to you? It should. Does it all sound rather depressing? It shouldn't. You'll have your downs, but you'll have your ups, too, those glorious and fleeting times when you wouldn't be anyone else or anywhere else.

Your children will change; preferably for the better, but don't count on it. The year will fly by. Make it a good one by thinking positively.

MILK BOARD FIELDMAN SERVICES

Douglas Ptolemy, fieldman for the O.M.M.B. covers the Counties of Hastings, Prince Edward and Lennox & Addington. With the number of milk producers in the three Counties, it became necessary in early 1971 to set up appointment days so that he could meet the largest number in the shortest possible time. The system was for him to be in one of the County offices one day a month. It has worked very well. At the present time Doug comes to the Stirling office of the first Thursday of each month and is available for interviews starting at 1:15 p.m. Naturally most of the questions deal with quotas, payments and, to some extent, quality or test problems. In January he was in the office on Thursday, the 6th. One of the current problems is that many milk producers in his area have produced too much milk for the quota they have on their farms. The key point is that the quota year runs until the end of March. Doug is concerned about this problem and urges as many who are in this situation to get in touch with him as soon as possible, preferably as an office visit. Many more people can be helped this way than if he were going from farm to farm in the same period of time. The fact that over production has occurred can be taken care of by the purchase of the necessary quota. If the herd has been built up to a higher level of production, then sufficient quota has to be purchased to get the best returns from the milk. The prices of M.S.Q. covered by Federal subsidy are generally realistic and there seems to be plenty of it available on the market. The point is, the problem of over production should be dealt with now and not at the end of the year when corrections can not be made.

HASTINGS FARM SERVICE CLUB ANNUAL MEETING

This County club deals with the work of Soil & Crop, Plowmen's and Safety. It is the County branch for all three Provincial organizations. It has a fairly large membership. The Director's Board represents all the county plus the Associate Directors who represent all County Farm organizations.

The Annual Meeting of this club will be held January 13, 1972, in the Legion Hall, Stirling. Notices have gone to the paid up members and Directors. Any other County farmer who is not a member is invited to attend and take part in the days proceedings. Tickets are priced at $2.00 including the 1972 membership. This may be reserved by contacting the office in Stirling.

The day will be devoted to discussing last year's projects in Soil & Crop and the activities of the Plowmen and Safety Council committees. From this will come suggestions to be used when the new Director's Board meet to plan 1972 work. The more people that take part, the more ideas that are put into the programs. The work of the club is devoted to programs that will benefit farm producers in Hastings County.

REPORT

During the week of December 31st. to January 7th, 1972, officers of Madoc Detachment, Ontario Provincial Police investigated 12 motor vehicle accidents; nine of property damage and three of personal injury with six persons taken to hospital.

There were 29 charges laid under the Criminal Code of Canada, Highway Traffic Act, and Liquor Control Act. There were six traffic warnings issued.

There were two requests for assistance with one report of theft and three reports of breaking and entering. There was one disturbance and 18 other general occurrences.

Twenty-eight and three-quarters hours were spent in Criminal Court, with Judge R. C. Jackson registering 11 convictions.

WINTER DRIVING REMINDERS:

- Be able to see and be seen. Keep all windows and lights clean and clear of snow. Freely use lights you may not see better but the other driver will see you sooner.

- Posted speed limits are for ideal conditions. In winter, half the posted limit may be too fast. The real speed limit is YOUR good judgment.

- During bad weather, remember to remove accumulated slush and snow from under the car fenders before the mass freezes and effects steering, suggests the Ontario Provincial Police.

G. I. Widdows,
Corporal.

LICENCE PLATE
SALES SLOW

Approximately two million Ontario car owners have still to purchase their 1972 licence plates with less than two months to go before the February 29 deadline.

At the end of December only 11.5 per cent of the estimated total of 2,233,039 car licences have been issued in the first month of sale, the office of the Registrar of the Motor Vehicles Division, Department of Transportation and Communications reported last Friday.

There will be no extension of the February 29 deadline, he emphasized.

"Owners are advised to get their plates as early as possible to avoid the usual last-minute surge of sales with their time-consuming line-ups," said a department official.

LOOKING BACK ...

50 YEARS AGO
January 12, 1902

The friends of Miss Jennie Tanner, of Ivanhoe, will regret to learn that on Friday last she had the misfortune to fall and fracture her hip and is at present in Belleville Hospital.

On Friday evening, December 30th, the friends and neighbours of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rollins met at their home in Queensboro to bid them farewell before leaving for their new home in Tyendinaga, presenting them with a purse and an address. Mr. Rollins made a suitable reply thanking the friends and inviting them to come and visit them in their new home.

Madoc met the Stirling hockey team on the Stirling arena last Monday night. Stirling was winner of the Trent Valley League last year, and is looked upon as the strongest competitor for this year's honours. When we consider that Madoc is almost entirely a new team, and has never played together as a team until Monday night, and although defeated by a score of 6-2, their showing is exceedingly creditable, especially when we consider that the score does not do them full justice. When the two teams meet on the home rink the score will be different.

Wedding — On Wednesday morning, December 14th, at eleven o'clock, Rosanna, youngest daughter of Mrs. John Leach, of Bancroft, became the happy bride of Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Rollins of Cooper. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. H. Hall of Madoc.

Deaths — John R. Artis passed peacefully away at the family residence in Tyendinaga on Tuesday evening after a short illness, aged 79 years.

On December 28th, 1921 John Blakely, aged 69 years.

On December 26th, Gordon Leroy, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Tyler. Aged 1 year and 3 months.

24 YEARS AGO
January 8 1948

Battling desperately against flames that were rapidly demolishing their two-storey home at St. Ola, a North Hastings hamlet, 69-year-old Mrs. Margaret Reid, succeeded in carrying George Burditt, 79, an invalid to safety before the fire completely destroyed the house and its contents shortly after seven o'clock Sunday evening.

Harry Ashley, 50-year-old Faraday farmer, is in the Red Cross Hospital at Bancroft suffering with severe facial lacerations and three fractured ribs, as a result of a freak accident which occurred 18 miles southwest of Bancroft on Saturday afternoon. Ashley with another teamster, Geo. Kellar, were driving their teams and sleighs on a return journey from Harcourt. Kellar was driving ahead of Ashley with the latter sitting on the rear of Kellar's sleigh, leading his horses. An oil truck came along the road towards them and both teams took fright and bolted. Kellar's horses, it seemed, were slower than those of Ashley, and in their fright the latter's horses reared high in the air and plunged down on the back end of the Kellar sleigh striking Ashley with their hoofs.

Births — In Belleville General Hospital on Monday, January 5, 1948, to Mr. and Mrs. Burrell Bateman (nee Arlie Bird), Eldorado, a son.

To Mr. and Mrs. Perce Embury, of Marmora, on January 6th, in the Nursing Home at Havelock, a baby brother for Larry, who was one year old on January 6th. Mrs. Sid Johnston, Perce's sister, has two girls, Barbara 13 and Carol, 11 years old, who celebrate a double birthday on September 25th.

Marriages — At Port Hope, on Wednesday, December 31, 1947,

John W. Foote united in marriage Grace Allen Nickle and Percy H. Naylor.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Thursday, January 1, 1948, when Thea Helen, eldest daughter of Mr. Lorne Wellman and the late Mae Wellman, of Holland, was united in marriage to Kenneth Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reid, Madoc.

Construction of the much talked of Madoc Foxboro highway is under way. The contract for work in the vicinity of Moira Lake was awarded the McCoy Construction at a cost of $212,000.

Mr. Laurison Simmons recently purchased the residence on Nelson Street, known as the Ballard Home. Mr. Karl Schurm, of Toronto has purchased the farm in Madoc Township owned by the late Isaac McCoy.

Citizens of Madoc Village will receive their mail on Monday next at Madoc's new post office. The local staff will be busy over the weekend, moving fixtures, supplies and mail will be ready to serve the public in the new building, Monday morning.

Miss Ethel Richmond, well known and respected employee of the North Hastings Review for over sixty years, recently retired as an active member of the staff.

The Madoc Hockey Club tightened its grip of the O.H.A. Intermediate "C" league Saturday night, January 5, by downing Bancroft 7-2. Madoc is undefeated in three starts.

Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Parks gathered at their home, on Thursday evening, January 3rd, in honour of their Fortieth Wedding Anniversary. During the evening, an address was read by their daughter, Mrs. Costan Parankul, of Madoc, announcing the birth of a son, Wayne Frederick, at the served by their daughters, Mrs. Cassidy Nursing Home.

FRIENDLY HINTS

EMERGENCY POWER

Do you have provision for emergency electrical service on your farm? While hydro power is not often interrupted for any length of time, occasionally ice storms do knock power lines down for long periods.

There was a time, not so long ago, when if the power went off everybody pitched in to milk the cows by hand, by the light of the lantern, and you just made out the best possible until the power came on.

Today with larger herds, and much more mechanical equipment using power, it has become another story. Standby generators are almost a necessity on many farms, and an absolute necessity on some farms where special equipment depends on uninterrupted power service.

A number of manufacturers now sell stand-by generators which may be operated from the tractor power take off. The generator can be hooked into the power line at the main box.

An important question is how big a generator to buy. It is not usually necessary to provide enough power to operate the full farm load. By care in only using needed lights, and only turning on critical equipment, the power demand may be kept down.

When adding up the power load which the generator must carry don't forget it takes more power to start a motor than to operate it.

Your local hydro office will help decide the best size of generator for your needs, but a general recommendation is that if the largest motor to be used is three horse, then a 10 or 12 KVA generator is needed. If you must operate a five horse motor, get a 15 KVA generator. The term KVA stands for 1000 volt amperes and you can calculate the number of volt amperes by multiplying the figures on the nameplates of motors and adding the wattage of the light bulbs.

Another thumb rule to keep in mind is the fact that you will need about two h.p. of tractor power for each 1000 watts of power generated.

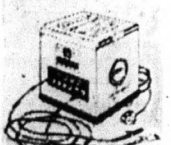

Before starting the generator turn off all the equipment. Then start the generator and bring it up to recommended speed. Next turn on the largest motor first, and then turn on the rest, one at a time. If the voltage drops below 200, turn off some of the equipment to reduce the load.

Be sure that everyone who may be left in charge of the farm thoroughly understands how to operate the emergency unit.

IN MEMORIAM

RAMSAY — In loving memory of a dear aunt, Annie Ramsay, who passed away January 13, 1968. God looked around his garden And found an empty place, He looked down on earth And saw your tired face. He put his arms around you And lifted you to rest. God's garden must be beautiful, For he only takes the best. Always remembered by Burton, Linda and Patti. 2-1

WILSON — In loving memory of my dear husband, Henry Wilson, who passed away January 14th, 1969.

As each day dawns and starts anew, And when it closes we think of you; The hours between, no matter where, Deep in our hearts you are always there. Lovingly missed by his wife, Emily and family.

BLACKBURN — In loving memory of Clayton Blackburn, who passed away January 17th, 1970. Always so good, unselfish and kind, Few on this earth his equal we find; Honorable and upright in all of his ways, Loyal and true to the end of his days. And while he lies in peaceful sleep His memory we shall always keep. Lovingly remembered by Violet and family.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

(By BEV. BROWNING)

In Philadelphia last week a Donnybrook broke out at the end of the second period between the St. Louis Blues' hockey players and the Philadelphia fans and police. This received top publicity in all the major newspaper's sports pages across both countries. Although you can't fault the Philadelphia players, one must degrade the Philadelphia fans and their arena. Although this happened in a professional league and arena, much the same happens in the small rinks around this area. A small handful of fans can give your arena and your town a bad name by taking their anger and tempers out on visiting teams and their executives. Through my own coaching experience I know there are some towns to which I don't totally enjoy taking my hockey team because of the poor sportsmanship of the fans.

Before some people jump to hasty conclusions, may I say that Tweed, Marmora, Stirling, Bancroft and Campbellford have been enjoyable arenas to visit. But I feel that teams coming from these villages and from any other village should be able to come to the Madoc arena free from fear of facing hostile fans. Short-tempered fans are fans our hockey team can do without. A fan pays admission to watch a hockey game, holler at players and referees, but does not have the right to attack a visiting player or referee. Let's keep Madoc a good place to visit and regardless of winning or losing let's remain good sports. Fighting in no way is going to change the results.

Tors Ten criticized part of my last week's Sports-Roundup and may I add Arnold Ross has every right to do so. Any write-up free from criticism isn't worth reading. Mr. Ross has every right to agree or disagree with all or part of any write-up that appears under the Sports-Roundup heading. If he believes that a player should receive criticism while a coach shouldn't, he is free to do so. He also has the right not to release a player unless he "so desires". This again is his prerogative. It is also his privilege to refuse any parent from finding out how the team is being run or to refuse to hold consultations with parents to settle differences between players and coaches. But I don't think he is right in saying he is doing it without pay. If he isn't satisfied by being paid with results of helping players to develop into better citizens and by helping players develop their skills to the fullest of their abilities then he is fooling nobody but himself.

As I said earlier a column that isn't worth criticizing is not worth reading. Chapter 4 will probably be heard on Channel 6, Tors Ten on Sunday night. (At last report yours truly and Arnold Ross are still the best of friends).

Speaking of Arnold Ross, his Kiwanis Bantam team, although still winning games, has run into some serious injuries. Goalie, Doug Ross missed last Friday night's game because of a shoulder injury. Harley Willemssen is also out for a couple of weeks. Harley has a leg injury picked up in a recent practice. Even with the injuries Marv Johnston on the bench, spurred the local Bantams to a 6-4 victory over Wellington. Peter White (just home from a holiday in Florida) scored five of the six goals. Ronnie Smith added a single, while assists went to Roger Elliott (5), Smith (2), White and Steven Johnston. Stewart Carswell filled in for Doug Ross in the Madoc nets. Although a little shaky at first, he filled in adequately to hold Wellington to four goals. Another problem facing Tor and Marv, is how to get the team to Florida for a holiday. They saw how it affected Peter White's play.

The Madoc Juveniles dropped an 8-5 game to Brighton last Thursday night. Brian Rollins tallied a pair of goals while singles went to Jordan Elliott, Eric Bailey and Rodney Rollins. Brian Smith assisted on two goals.

Madoc I.O.O.F. still remained winless after six starts when they dropped a 7-1 decision to Marmora last Friday night. Craig Robinson from Stewart McEwen scored Madoc's lone goal. Madoc held Marmora (top place team) to a 3-0 lead after two periods but again let up in the third period. The score didn't indicate the play as Madoc missed several scoring opportunities and gave up most of their goals on break-aways.

GAMES THIS WEEK:

AROUND THE HOUSE WITH CURLING

This week we are going to talk about a very controversial shot in the game of curling. The use or disuse of the guard.

THE GUARD

The guard in curling, is a stone left in front of the house as a means for protecting your teams' shot/rock from the opposition's shot, so that you may count in that end or at least cut your opposition down on the number that he will count.

In many cases the skips will put too much emphasis on the use of the guard stone. Some skips like to guard the first stone that they get into the house, and they continue to do so through-out the end so that he will not have to make his last shot in order to count on that particular end. This only goes to prove that the skip has not got the confidence in himself to make his last shot.

There really isn't much point in guarding a single rock, unless you are in the last end with last rock against you. In the first place, the guard has to be placed very accurately to be of service. In the second place, there is always the possibility that the guard, if negotiated by the opposition, could be very embarrassing to you, by causing you the same problem that you were using on them.

And third, a second stone in the house continues to force the opposition to the defensive. It is also the start to building a big end if your opponents make a miss or two. So the question as to whether to guard or not is left up to the discretion of the individual skip.

CURLING PATTERN

This past weekend saw three Madoc rink's compete at two different Bonspiels. Although they were not winners, all three teams put up good shows and were a credit to the club.

At a one-day speil in Tweed, the team of Ray Twiddy, Lorna Twiddy, Tom Burnside and Arlene Bateman, won two games and lost the third game in a point bonspiel. They were not in the prizes but they put up good competition, for they played high calibre competition from Belleville and Peterborough.

The team of Cyril Shaw, Bob Bateman, Rae Robinson and Mike O'Dell, and the team of Francis Bosley, Ab Fox, Brian Danford and Ivan Sine competed in the men's Bonspiel at Stirling. They both won one game and lost two in the two-day speil.

The January meeting of St. Ola U.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs. Pearl Wood. The meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. Marjorie Hamlin, reading Psalm 90, followed by a very inspiring poem called "New Years Eve", as follows:

Here we bring new water from the well so clear

For to worship God with this Happy New Year

Sing levy dew, the water and the wine

PROMISING PAIR ADDED TO INTERMEDIATES

The Madoc Canucks took to the ice for the first scheduled game of the new year on Sunday night when they played host to the BP Oil Kings of Tweed. After holding a 3-0 lead until mid way through the second period, the locals saw Tweed finally tie up the score and take over the lead when they took advantage of a short-handed team who had unfortunately lost players to the penalty box.

All three goals of the opening period were scored by the 8:26 mark. The first of these was an unassisted goal by Vic Conte at 2:52, to which another was added with a fabulous rush down the ice by Jerry Chapman, assisted by Bob Bartsch and Terry McGregor at the 5:40 mark. Within two minutes Jerry whipped in the local's final unanswered goal, assisted by Chuck Mills. A penalty in the last half of this period by a local player brought their scoring to a standstill, but they still prevented their opponents from scoring until the close of the period.

The second stanza saw some good checking and hard shots on goal, but by excellent goal-tending and strong defensive work. Even as the visitors served a penalty at the 4:50 mark, luck seemed to have left the home team and, every effort to score failed. When a two-minute penalty was handed to the locals, the Tweed Oil Kings seemed to get the break they needed. Through a series of short-handedness on the Canucks' side, Tweed tied up the score before the close of the period, in the last six minutes.

At the 4:29 mark in the final period, while a Madoc player was sitting out a penalty, Tweed scored an unavoidable goal and took a one-point lead. A total of ten penalties were handed out during this period, six of these going to the Canucks. The ensuing pair of goals by the visitors only proved that the team needs ALL of its players and that ALL penalties are costly, as they lead to tension and stress for the overburdened remaining players. Sunday night's defeat appears to be the direct result of losing players to the penalty box, as the report indicates. The opponents always put up an extra effort to make a strong rush on the goalie being defended by a short-handed team, and they will likely continue to operate in this fashion as long as there is hockey. The only solution is to see that the team is not left short-handed if it can be avoided at all.

On Monday of this week two new players signed up to join the Madoc Canucks, and have added a new hope to the players. The hundreds of fans who saw the Juniors take the Ontario Championship in Centennial year may remember Fred Free of Campbellford. Fred will be playing for the Intermediates for the remainder of the season. The second new player is Doug Potts of Stirling. Doug has played for the Belleville Quinte Sr. "A" team, so will be a valuable addition to the Canucks.

Tonight (Wednesday, Jan. 12th) the locals travel to Brighton for an eight o'clock game against Gosport. They then play host to the Frankford team at eight o'clock on Sunday night in the Madoc arena.

The good fan support of the season so far has been much appreciated by the team and its management. Come out Sunday night and see the promising new players in action along with all the regulars.

MADOC, HASTINGS COUNTY, ONTARIO

JANUARY 19, 1972 Number 3 Established April 6, 1877

Tyendinaga Reeve Is County Warden

Tyendinaga Reeve Carmen Gibson is the 1972 warden for Hastings County.

The election of the new warden was the first order of business as county council members met in caucus yesterday morning to choose between five aspirants for the position. Appointments to the various county committees are also decided behind closed doors and later ratified in open council.

The new county warden succeeds Elzevir and Grimsthorpe Reeve Kenneth Smith who held the honour last year.

All five aspirants for the warden's chair who made their intentions known at the December session remained in the race. They were Carmen Gibson, Thurlow Reeve Horace Casey, Huntingdon Reeve Russell Sills, George Lyons of Deseronto and Jack McKenzie of Faraday Township.

The warden-elect is the first county council head chosen from Tyendinaga Township since Harold Long held the honour in 1965.

O.E.S. No. 143

On Monday, January 10, the annual inspection of Madoc O.E.S. No. 143 was conducted, with Inspecting Officer D.D.G.M. Pauline Clare presiding.

Worthy Matron Jean Holmes and Worthy Patron Dave Kertouhan welcomed many distinguished guests and visitors.

In attendance were P.D.D.G.M. Luella Brickman of Belleville and Honourary Member of the Madoc Chapter, as well as many presiding Matrons and Patrons from the surrounding area.

Three new members were initiated and welcomed into the Order.

After the closing of Chapter more tickets were sold on the beautiful hooked rug with the Eastern Star emblem in the center. The rug was made by our Worthy Matron's mother while she was a patient in the Princess Margaret Hospital. Half of the money collected from the selling of tickets on the rug will be donated to the Cancer Fund. Lucky winner of the rug was Margaret Derry of Madoc.

The officers served a dainty lunch bringing the evening to a pleasant ending.

The following officers were installed - Immediate Past Master, E. R. Piggden; Wor. Master, Robert Henderson; Senior Warden, Roy Frost; Junior Warden, Robert Gordon; Chaplain, P. H. Naylor; Treasurer, W. R. The licence was presented by Mr. Rollins on behalf of Leo Bernier, Minister of Mines and Northern Affairs. It may be carried by Mr. Symon personally and used in connection with recording mining claims. In holding a licence continuously for 25 years, Mr. Symon has entered a small select group of people who have spent a lifetime in the exploration field. An announcement was made this week by Mr. Ray Birch, Secretary, Madoc Winter Carnival Committee, that it has been confirmed that Miss Dominion of Canada will be attending the Madoc Winter Carnival on Miss Drouillard who has an older sister, was born in Windsor, Ontario. Prior to being Miss Dominion of Canada, Miss Drouillard was a teacher of typing and shorthand. She enjoys horseback riding and all types of sports as well as seafoods.

Minor Hockey Week Begins This Saturday

Minor Hockey Week in Ontario begins this Saturday, January 22nd. In Madoc, it will be observed by a series of games, planned to begin tomorrow night and running through until Saturday morning. See the sports Round-up inside this issue for a schedule of these games.

The week has been set aside to make people aware of Minor Hockey and to encourage parents and other sports fans to take an active interest in these young players.

IT COULD BE ANY CENTRE
My boy of nine pauses to state -
He's playing hockey tonight at eight.
"No, I can't go. Don't count on me to go down and play - I've paid your fee."

My boy is ten. Coach needs a car
To take the boys to a town that's far.
"Certainly not! My car can't go. I don't like to drive in the ice and snow."

My boy's eleven and needs new stuff
His old gear just isn't big enough.
"Now, it costs me money to bowl and curl.
Oh, I wish to God he'd been born a girl!"

My boy is twelve and he wants to know Why some fathers stay and others go.
"Now, son, don't annoy your mother and me.
We've bridge tonight with the Joneses see."

My boy is thirteen, questions no more
I guess he's finally learned the score.
"Well, I know nothing about the game.
It's not my fault - I'm not to blame."

My boy's fourteen, the years have flown
He's tall and strong. My, how he's grown!
But now it's too late for shedding tears
"My God! I've missed his childhood years

(By BILL SMILEY)

Either I'm slowing down or life is speeding up. Probably both, which is one reason I'm so confused these days. The other reason is that I've always been confused.

For one thing, the new tax legislation. It may be manna to lawyers and accountants, but to the ordinary, rather stupid Canadian, like me, it's like wandering around in a bog in a fog, blind-folded.

What did I do before Valuation Days were announced? Nothing. I didn't have a clue where to start, and besides, the whole thing had about as much fascination for me, as a January sale.

Now I discover that I should have valued some of my precious antiques and stuff, so that I could pay taxes on them when they increase in value.

Well, I haven't any stamp collections or coin collections or paintings that are going to increase in price steadily. I don't have a summer cottage, which seems to be a bad thing to have, according to the papers.

But I do have some antiques. There's the violin, for example. It's an authentic hand-made instrument. My Uncle Tom made it about forty years ago, and somehow it came into my possession. No one in the family has played it, because there is only one string, the bridge is broken, and the frame is slightly warped. Therefore, it's not just junk, but almost pristine, and surely is increasing in value daily. The case in which it is enclosed is equally antique, (I'd say about 1850 vintage). I definitely slipped up there. That thing could be worth as much as $38 in ten or twelve years, and I got it for nothing. How much will a rapacious government snatch from me in capital gains for that?

And the beds, of course. They are genuine antiques. My mother bought them at an auction sale, and they must have been 100 years old then. We inherited them, and they're probably priceless by now.

How about my hip waders? If they're not antiques, I'll eat your hip waders. They're so old I can't remember when I bought them, and they are full of genuine holes, just like my old furniture.

And where does my wood-pile come in? One of my oaks blew down last summer and I had it cut down into firewood. Now I didn't pay for the oak when I bought my property, and I have about $35 worth of wood there. Do I pay capital gains tax on it?

Enough of that. I'm becoming steadily more worried. I can see my entire estate going down the drain to the greedy tax collector.

Something else has me just about as puzzled. It's the educational system. It's different in every province, so that you can learn as much in twelve years in Manitoba as you can in thirteen years in Ontario. That is understandable, because of the difference in climate (the only reason I can think of.)

But a whole new, frightening aspect of the blackboard jungle is being introduced in my province. It's probably something the Yanks tried out ten years ago and found unworkable and have since abandoned. That's the way Canadian education, at its worst, seems to operate.

Beginning next September, the kids and their parents choose what subjects the kid will take in high school. So far, so good. I've always been opposed to the old, rigid system under which you had to take math or French or something you were hopelessly inept at. I think there should be lots of options.

But surely, this is going a bit far. The provincial government, with the aid of federal help, has spent millions and millions of dollars, setting up schools with all manner of equipment, especially in the technical departments.

Different subjects, let's say English and History, will be vying for students so that teachers won't lose jobs. The History department will make its play by showing pictures of nude statues of Rome and Greece and the Renaissance. But I've laid my plans too. We're going to lay in a supply of dirty modern novels, and also give everybody at least 75 per cent.

Don't tell me that a 13 or 14 year old will choose anything except what he thinks are the "easiest" subjects. This could lead to courses in basket weaving, archery, or mope and gawky.

And what do I do if the principal informs me that nobody wants to take English next year? I'm not a bit worried. I am convinced I can cook better than some of the Home Economics teachers, and could fit in nicely there. I know the first four letters of the Greek alphabet, and could teach Greek in a pinch.

DISPOSABLE DIAPERS CLOG SEWAGE

A few weeks ago, a notice was placed in the Review regarding improper use of the sewer system in the Village. It seems this is a Canada-wide problem, as Winnipeg, Manitoba, has run into the same situation. The following article appeared in the Water and Pollution Control Magazine recently: "Minister of Consumer, Corporate and Internal Services Ben Hanuschak has asked the public not to dispose of heavy tissues through the sanitary system in their homes."

"We have received complaints from Metro Winnipeg officials that certain products such as disposable diapers and diaper liners are causing extensive damage in sewage treatment facilities," Mr. Hanuschak explained.

The tissues are made of material which is not bio-degradable and clog vents in the sewage system. Metro officials have stated that repairs necessitated by damage caused by the clogged vents cost over $50,000 last year.

It has been suggested that heavy tissue products be put in plastic bags and disposed of with the garbage."

ST. PETER'S WOMEN'S CLUB

Miss Loretta Connor was programme convenor for the January meeting of St. Peter's Women's Club which was held at the home of Mrs. Geraldine Hawkes. Miss Connor chose as her topic, the life of the Spanish painter, Pablo Picasso, who recently celebrated his 90th birthday.

Picasso was a child prodigy and at the age of fifteen, his father, an art teacher, turned over his paints and brushes to him. At the age of twenty-one, his paintings moved into the Blue and Pink period and these were the most famous of his paintings. In 1906 he began his Cubism paintings, which were not abstract, but similar to Egyptian art as he had spent some time in Egypt. He is as famous for his sculptures and ceramics and wire constructions as for his paintings. The several women in Picasso's life greatly influenced his art.

Picasso has produced thousands of works of art and is still working at least eight hours daily. Although he claims not to be interested in money, he is the richest artist in history, his estate being valued at 750 million. The current price for a Picasso oil painting is fifty to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars and for a drawing, up to twenty-five thousand dollars.

The meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. Daisy Bateman with a poem "A Healthy Prayer".

Mrs. Mary Trotter conducted the devotional service. The hymn,

During the week of January 7th, 1972 to January 14th, 1972 officers of Madoc Detachment, Ontario Provincial Police investigated 10 motor vehicle accidents; eight of property damage, one of personal injury with one person taken to the hospital and one fatal accident with one person killed.

There were 24 charges laid under the Criminal Code of Canada, Highway Traffic Act, and Liquor Control Act. There were 17 traffic warnings issued.

There were four requests for assistance, with six reports of thefts and one report of breaking and entering. There were three disturbances and 11 other general occurrences.

Thirteen and three-quarters hours were spent in Criminal Court, with Judge R. C. Jackson registering 11 convictions.

As an added measure against a snow emergency, assemble these items and make sure they're available in your car throughout the cold months: sand or traction mat, small snow shovel, ice scraper, and snowbrush, dry cloth, windshield washer, antifreeze and a flashlight.

LOOKING BACK ...

50 YEARS AGO
January 19, 1922

Last Thursday morning the body of Mrs. Jacob Maracle, an esteemed resident of Tyendinaga Reserve, was found in the bush half a mile south of the Marysville Catholic Church. Mrs. Maracle, who had been working at a place near Shannonville had been returning home in Wednesday night's sleet storm, and had left the highway to take a shortcut across some fields, towards her home. The woman, who was about sixty years of age, must have stepped or been pulled out of her buggy, the lines became foul around her body and she was dragged across the ploughed field by her horse, which was seeking shelter in the bush. The woman not returning home that night, search was begun, but the body was not found until about ten o'clock the next morning. Mrs. Maracle had evidently died from exposure.

The Carnival which was held at Clark and Carlton's rink on Monday evening last, proved to be a decided success. The costumes, which were many and beautiful, showed the interest which is taken in an event of this kind. The tug of war was one of the most interesting events of the evening. Prizes were won by the following: Best Fancy dressed lady, Mrs. P. McCoy; Best fancy dressed girl, 14 years and under, Jessie Rupert; Best comic dressed girl, Miss Sarah Blair; Best fancy dressed gentleman, Mr. James Burns; Best comic dressed gentleman, Mr. Hugh Kellar; Best dressed boy, 14 years and under, Donald Whytock; Winner of free-for-all race, Mr. William Dougan.

Death - The community of Eldorado was shocked to hear of the death of Mr. John D. Nickle of Malone. He was only three weeks sick but was confined to his bed all the time. He leaves to mourn his loss a widow, four sons and three daughters, Mrs. John Walte, of Toronto; Mrs. William Gawley of Malone; and Miss Maude of Toronto. Two brothers, Henry and William of Malone, one sister, Mrs. G. D. Gordon, of Eldorado.

15 YEARS AGO
January 17, 1957

Gordon Jones, a Marmora district farmer, who a year ago lost his wife, and six children in a fire which destroyed their home north of Marmora has proved the hero of a fire Monday night, when with another man, he rescued a mother and her seven-year-old son from a burning house. Mrs. Armintha Shortt and her son were sleeping in their frame house three miles north of Bonarlaw when Mr. Jones and Gordon McFarland, also of Marmora, spotted the flames as they drove by on the highway. They kicked open the door and after arousing the mother, wrapped the lad in blankets and carried him to safety in 25 below zero temperature. Mr. Shortt was working the night shift at Marmora Mines at the time of the fire. The Shortt's frame house was completely destroyed with only a refrigerator and stove being saved.

The many friends of Mrs. Andrew Wilson are glad to know that she is progressing favorably, after having the misfortune to break her arm.

Madoc continued to roll along its undefeated trail in OHA Intermediate "C" hockey last Friday night, January 11, defeating Marmora 7-4, while in another league tilt Frankford bested Campbellford 9-7 in a free scoring game. On Wednesday night of this week, Madoc won their sixth game of the season by winning in Campbellford, 5-4. In Bancroft, Frankford also extended their winning streak, by disposing of Bancroft, 6-3.

The Napanee Beaver in last week's issue says: "You may notice some typographical errors in this paper. They were put there intentionally. This paper tries to print something for everyone, and some people are always looking for mistakes."

Birth - In Johannesburg, S.A., on Friday, January 11, 1957, to Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bowley, (nee Moira Watson) a daughter, Jillian Moira.

Death - Well known city and county agriculturalist, business man and soldier, Colonel Roscoe Vanderwater, D.S.O., died suddenly at his farm home at Marsa Hill, near Foxboro, some time during the night.

Col. Vanderwater had recently celebrated his 68th birthday. Surviving are Mrs. Vanderwater, the former Aileen O'Hara, three daughters, Mrs. Basil (Alison) Kuglin, Marsh Hill, Mrs. Arthur (Margaret) Ghent, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. and Mrs. Jack (Gena) Shibley, of the Hawaiian Islands, and three grandchildren.

AROUND THE HOUSE WITH CURLING

Last week we discussed the guard and what it was. This week we will try to bring forth some ideas of when to use the shot.

WHEN TO GUARD

In an offensive style of game, a guard is the last type of shot to use, but there are occasions when it is a "must", even though you have last rock. It is important, too, to know when to play short guards or when to use long guards. A guard is a protector and should be used only when no other shot would improve vulnerable places that you are "sticking your neck out" by not preserving your advantage.

A guard may be excused under the following circumstances:

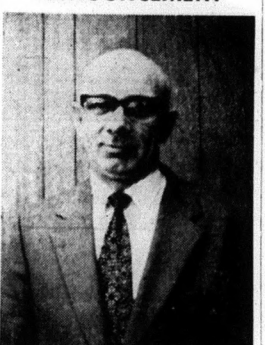

1. To protect the possibility of a double take-out by a rink of sharpshooters or good take-out curlers.
2. To protect a possible roll off the key rock into a nest of your own rocks which may be well hidden by stones in front of the house.
3. A long guard is necessary in the last resort to block a raise or "close" a port. Quite often the front of the house becomes so cluttered with rocks that there is no alternative but to protect the position of your shot rocks in the rings, even if it means guarding an opposition stone in front of the rings, to avoid a possible raise on your shot stone.
4. If your opponents have a houseful of stones and your stone is second shot and inaccessible, do not take any chances of exposing it but play another guard in front.

INTERMEDIATES WIN OVER FRANKFORD

Last Wednesday night the Madoc Intermediates met the second-place Gosport team in the Brighton arena, and, after taking a 2-0 lead in the first period, were defeated in a close 7-6 game.

At the 1:36 mark, Harold Bailey scored the opener, assisted by Glen Graham and Terry Chapman, followed at the 8:02 mark with an unassisted goal by Chuck Mills. Serving three two-minute penalties compared to one by their opponents, gave the Madoc Canucks a bit of a set-back, as Gosport took advantage of the opportunity and shot in five unanswered goals, thereby taking a three-goal lead to close out the period.

The second stanza saw Gosport whip in their sixth goal at the 6:24 mark, replied to less than three minutes later by Madoc's Terry Chapman, assisted by Chuck Mills and Glen Graham. In this period, only one penalty was served (by the local team) but all Gosport's efforts to score were foiled by the strong defensive Canucks.

Meeting for the third period, a two-minute penalty was issued to Madoc at the 5:30 mark, but Terry Chapman shot in an unassisted goal at the 6:41 mark, despite Gosport's one-man advantage. The opponent's final goal of the night was scored at 17:09, just 7 seconds after a man from each team returned to action from the penalty box. Madoc replied in 49 seconds on a goal by Dean Lavender assisted by Vic Conte and then Vic scored at the 18:46 mark on an assist of Bob Bartsch and Glen Graham. As time ran out, this proved to be the final goal of the night.

Playing at home on Sunday night, the Intermediates downed Frankford 7-5 in an exciting game of good clean serious hockey, which saw a total of only three penalties handed out to each team during the match.

Ralph Francis gave Madoc the lead at the 4:39 mark on an assist of Glen Graham and Terry Chapman. Frankford's reply goal at the 6:17 mark seemed to set the pace as the teams matched each other, goal for goal, until midway through the second period. The home team's reply came at 10:20 by Terry MacGregor, assisted by Bob Chapman and Don McCrae.

At 12:38 Frankford tied up the score but Doug Potts put Madoc back in the lead to close out the first period, assisted by Dean Lavender and Terry Chapman. The second period saw the visitors again bring the score to a tie as they tallied at the 9:54 mark. Glen Graham cancelled that at the 15:45 mark on an assist of Ralph Francis and Terry Chapman. The remainder of the period saw well-checked goal attempts by both teams, but Madoc held their 4-3 lead.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

(By BEV. BROWNING)

"I do — Do you?" is the slogan that comes into effect this Saturday, January 22nd. On this day Minor Hockey Week starts in most centres across Ontario and will continue until Saturday, January 29th. In Madoc, our Minor Hockey Week will begin on Thursday night and continue through Saturday. It is hoped that a Minor Hockey night for Saturday hockey players will be held later in February.

SCHEDULED:

- For Thursday — 7:00 p.m. - Pee Wees - Brighton at Madoc.
- 9:00 p.m. - Juveniles - Trenton at Madoc.
- For Friday — 7:00 p.m. - Novice - Campbellford at Madoc.
- 8:15 p.m. - Bantams - Campbellford at Madoc.
- Saturday Morning — 8:30 - 9:30 - Canadiens vs. Canucks.
- 9:30 - 10:30 - Leafs vs. Bruins.
- League consists of Novice and Pee-Wee aged hockey players.
- 10:30 - 11:30 - Tyke game to be arranged.
- 11:30 - 12:30 - Atoms.
- 3:00 - 4:30 - Midget game to be arranged.

A set admission price is set for Thursday and Friday night games, while for Saturday hockey there is no admission. However, if you wish to support Minor Hockey there is a Minor Hockey Box just inside the door in which you may deposit any donation you wish.

When is the last time you attended a "Minor" hockey game. Your support would sure give the boys playing a boost. You have a wide choice from Thursday through Saturday. Won't you plan to attend one night or the other. Most parents do say, "I do — Do you?"

Minor Sports would like to thank Joe Ash for constructing and donating a trophy case for the Madoc Arena. Your time and consideration is greatly appreciated. It is now up to our hockey players to win some trophies to display in this trophy case.

Madoc Juveniles dropped a 5-1 decision to Frankford last Thursday night. The Frankford team skated and passed well and were great opportunists. Donnie Armstrong scored Madoc's lone goal. Two injuries weakened the local squad. Gary Dowe suffered a knee injury in the game with Frankford, while Rodney Rollins picked up an ankle and foot injury in their last game with Brighton.

The Bantams dropped a pair of games last week. In Grafton the Colborne Bantams outlasted the Madoc Kiwanis Bantams 8-5. Peter White fired in a pair of goals while singles went to Larry Bailey, Steven Johnston and Bob Willemsen. White also picked up a pair of assists while Roger Elliott, Jim Moore and James Clarke each added one assist.

In Madoc on Thursday night Tweed led 4-0 going into the third period and held Madoc to a pair of goals to skate off with a 4-2 win. Peter

White and Steven Johnston tallied for Madoc while Roger Elliott assisted on both goals and Ronnie Smith added one assist on Johnston's goal.

The Pee-Wees had a busy week. Last Thursday night they dropped a 6-4 decision to Marmora. Larry Bailey scored a pair of goals while Jim Moore and Sammy Bossio added singles. Mark Johnston had two assists while Moore added one assist. The Pee-Wees came from behind in the third period, but roughing and fighting penalties turned the tide in favour of Marmora.

In Brighton on Saturday afternoon Mark Johnston and Larry Bailey each fired a pair of goals to lead the Legionaire Pee-Wees to a 7-4 victory. Singles to John Watson, Duane Bateman and Sammy Bossio rounded out the scoring. Assists on the Madoc goals went to Michael Rollins (2), Sammy Bossio (2), Eric Petty, John Watson, Larry Bailey and Gary Chapman.

On Sunday afternoon the Pee-Wees dropped an 8-2 decision to a powerful Wellington crew in Wellington. Larry Bailey from Sammy Bossio, and Duane Bateman from Jim Moore supplied the only scoring punch the Pee-Wees could muster.

Saturday afternoon the Madoc I.O.O.F. dropped a 6-0 decision to Brighton in Brighton. After a scoreless first period, Brighton scored a pair of goals in the second period and fired in four goals (three in the last four minutes) in the last stanza. The highlight of the game was when Madoc's Cameron Clark stopped a penalty shot in the first period. Although shut-out, Madoc had scoring opportunities but couldn't finish off their plays.

Canada lost three more snowmobilers over the week-end, raising the total to 48 who have lost their lives this season across the nation. Be careful and use common sense. Who said it couldn't happen to you? I'd rather have you around to read this column than for me to read your obituary. Guess I'm selfish that way.

The Intermediates gave a good account of themselves last Sunday night. May you continue to offer good hockey entertainment and may this be a start of a long winning streak.

The Big Mail-out has begun.

Tax reform legislation has been approved by Parliament and is now law.

What does tax reform mean to you? How will it affect you?

To answer these questions, the Department is conducting a massive national mailing program. Booklets are now being printed and mailed to all taxpayers as quickly as they come off the press.

The complete mailing will be finished in about four weeks.

All taxpayers will receive at least two booklets —

"Highlights for Individuals" and "Valuation Day". These should provide answers to most of your questions.

Some taxpayers will receive additional information, according to their specific needs.

Read your booklets. Afterwards, if you have questions, ask us. We'll be glad to help.

You will find that your booklets will make it easier to file your income tax return in 1973, because they will help you to prepare now.

This 160-pound St. Bernard is as gentle and loving as the look on his face, despite the fears of strangers who judge him by his size. "Casey", as he is called, is nearly one and a half years old. He was born in North Porcupine, Saskatchewan, and was brought to Madoc part way by car, but flew from Winnipeg to the Madoc airport at Toronto when he was three months old. Owner, Mrs. Dianne Dyck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pigden of Madoc, has papers for her gigantic thoroughbred pet. At three feet tall, it is believed he has reached his mature height, but he is expected to broaden out quite a bit yet. Wearing the traditional keg of his breed around his neck, Casey is a good companion who loves to run and play. Surprisingly enough, he is very nimble on his feet. He particularly loves to run beside a snowmobile and often gets ahead of it. As large as he is, Casey doesn't seem to tire too easily and he never stops until his companion quits first.

QUINTE - HASTINGS RECREATIONAL TRAIL PROJECT

L.I.P. No. 3115
(Belleville & District Employment Committee)

PROGRESS REPORT NO. 1

This is the first of a series of Progress Reports that will be prepared by the Project Administrator of the Quinte-Hastings Recreational Trail Project and sent out to Heads of Municipalities, Tourist Associations, Conservation Authorities, Newspapers and other interested or involved individuals or agencies, mainly in Hastings and Prince Edward Counties.

This report covers the period
December 16th to December 31st, 1971.

Word that the Project had been approved by Honourable Otto E.
Lang, Minister of Manpower and Immigration, was received by telephone call from the Minister's office, late in the afternoon of December 16th. We were told that the work could commence immediately and that the contract was in the mail that day.

Some preliminary work had already been done by the recently appointed Project Administrator, W.
Grant Harvey, in selecting possible office accommodation in Belleville and for a Branch office in Picton.
He had also made some arrangements with Canada Manpower officials regarding personnel hiring and had prepared job specifications for the Branch supervisors, Clerks and Researchers. Also, in company with Mr. Jas. Staveley, Secretary-Treasurer of Belleville & District Employment Committee, a visit had been made to talk with Mr. Eric Gage and Mr. Harold Cantelon, Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, Tweed. Other talks had also been held with the Secretaries of Maitre River Conservation Authority and Lower Trent Region Conservation Authority concerning the Trail project.

A Steering Committee, to deal with policy and other executive matters affecting the Project, was formed on December 21st. Members are: Mr. Reg. Loader (ex-officio);
Mr. Russell Sills, Reeve Huntingdon
Township; Mr. Ross Sprackell, Reeve Tudor and Cashel Townships;
Mr. Fred Bemis, Industrial Commissioner, City of Belleville; Mr. W.
Grant Harvey, the Project Administrator is in attendance to this committee and acts as secretary.

Following examination of several sites, the Steering Committee approved space at 14 Bridge St. W., Belleville, for use as Project Head Office. The telephone number is 966-3543. Mr. Rodger Ritchie, 65
First Ave., Trenton, is in charge of the Project payroll and other head office functions at this location and is also responsible to the Administrator for field work on the Project in the area from Bay of Quinte north to Highway No. 7.

The Contract was duly received, signed by Mr. Reg. Loader, Chairman and Mr. Russell Sills, Vice-Chairman, of the Belleville and District Employment Committee, and returned to Ottawa on December 22nd.

Mr. Henry Leavens, Chairman
Prince Edward Region Conservation Authority, in preliminary conversations with Mr. Harvey, had offered space in the Conservation Authority office in Picton. The Administrator's recommendation to accept this offer, as it could be mutually advantageous, allowing the Conservation Office to operate in conjunction with the Project office, 5 days per week. Formerly the Authority office was only open on Wednesdays and Thursdays. Accordingly the Project office in Picton is operating on a shared basis with the Conservation Authority upstairs in the Armoury Mall. The Project supervisor there is, Mr.
Arthur Stafford, R.F. 2, Picton.
The telephone number is 476-2249.

Clerical services are also being shared, as an administrative economy and benefit to both services at the same time, providing needed full time rather than part time employment for the clerk.

There had been several news-items indicating that Branch Offices were to be opened in Bancroft and Madoc or Marmora. As it had not been possible to select any particular sites prior to approval of the Project, the Administrator proceeded into the area north of Highway
No. 7 for the first time on December 22nd. By prearrangement he met with Mr. Vers McMurray, Gil-mour and Mr. Gordon Bennett,
President, Highlands of Hastings Tourist Association, at Mr. Bennett's office in Marmora. Mr. Bennett offered office space at a nominal rental in his own office. However after discussion, Mr. Harvey and Mr. McMurray proceeded to Bancroft to determine the situation there, as Mr. McMurray, who had offered his services and had been considered from the early planning stages as an excellent candidate for the supervisory position in the North Hastings area, had suggested that it might be most feasible to operate the Branch office from his own home in Gilmour. After discussion with Mr. Ken Wilcocks,

Vice-President, Madawaska Region
Tourist Council, it was apparent that the best solution was indeed to have Mr. McMurray operate the Project office from Gilmour and he was therefore installed as Project Supervisor for all the area north of Highway No. 7. His telephone number is 474 2153.

The foregoing actions, and many administrative and organizational details connected with them were completed prior to the Christmas holiday. Then, on December 30th, the Administrator held a half-day staff meeting at Project Head Office, attended by the three Branch Supervisors. At this meeting several important understandings and decisions were reached. The job specifications were reviewed and no changes were considered necessary.
The Project plan for January, 1972 was revised so that hiring for that month, provided the personnel can be used and supervised, will be up to 18 Researchers and up to 3 Crew Chiefs and up to 12 Field Crew. The division of Researchers will be up to 10 for the North Hastings area and up to 5 for the Picton office and up to 5 for the Belleville office. Additional hirings can be planned on an as-required basis, because of carryover of unexpended funds for November and December. Travel and other allowances were set for Branch Supervisors, Researchers, Crew Chiefs and Field Crew, to be in accordance with the Treasury Board Directive as is applicable to Federal Civil Service. Hiring of all employees of the Project to be through Canada Manpower Centers and persons hired to be local to the area in which they will work, so far as is possible.

Mr. McMurray suggested that the Trail should have a permanent name, shorter than the one used for the Project and it should have appropriate geographical and historical significance. He proposed that the name "Algonquin Trail" be chosen. This is being referred to the Steering Committee. Meantime, ideas and suggestions from recipients of this report or from any other interested parties is invited.

Since the staff meeting, the Administrator has received from Mr.
Ray Lowes, Secretary of the Bruce Trail Association, a most helpful letter replying to certain questions asked regarding trail development, together with a copy of the Bruce Trail Manual. These are being reprinted and distributed to the Branch Supervisors for their use in connection with our own project.

One very important point brought out in Mr. Lowes's letter is that the Bruce Trail Association does not undertake any written legal agreements with landowners or renters regarding land use or crossings, nor do they accept any obligation of public liability for which insurance coverage would be required. Their experience, and that of the Appalachian Trail System, on which the Bruce Trail Manual is patterned, is that verbal agreements regarding land use and crossings are entirely adequate and most landowners already have liability insurance for their own protection. No doubt our Project should be conducted along similar lines - thereby avoiding possible legal entanglements and lawsuits.

FRIENDLY HINTS

CONTROLLING WORMS IN LIVESTOCK

Worms do considerable harm to a beef feeder or dairyman's enterprise. Probably much more than anyone fully realizes. We know that well over 50 per cent of herds surveyed are infected by one of several kinds of worms.

The most common worms are lung worms and stomach worms, and each affects different parts of your animal's system. The lung worm creates blockage of air passages, and you'll see symptoms of coughing and emphysema. If the infection is heavy enough, you're apt to see some mortality result.

The stomach worms affect digestion. Some of the worms burrow into delicate stomach or intestinal tissues, which of course, cuts down on digestive efficiency. It affects the animal's ability to convert feed into meat, or milk.

Some of these stomach worms drain off blood, which in heavy infections could mean as much as a half a pint of blood loss per day. Loss of appetite, dehydration, sometimes swelling under the jaw, persistent diarrhea are various symptoms of stomach worms or intestinal worms.

A major challenge facing the careful herd manager is to detect the presence of worms, before they get so bad that the clear cut symptoms develop. Slight infections are not detectable. But it is safe to assume that because so many animals are infected, the pastures and barn yards used by the cattle will be heavily infected with egg and larvae. It is also wise to assume that routine worming is the best management decision.

Some feeders, in the past, used to think that stomach worms could be "flushed out" of the cattle by feeding extra rations. But all this does is "feed" the worms and "flush" your profits into the gutter.

Use of a broad spectrum wormer that won't stress cattle, or knock them off their feed, is an excellent approach.

Briefly, worm new feeders (according to manufacturers' directions) when the feeders arrive on the farm. Worm cattle, spring and fall, including dairy calves and heifers unless they are within a month of slaughter time. Worm milkers when they are dry.

Thiabendazole (Thiabendazole) and Tramisol are two such wormers that your co-op fieldman can help you use to good advantage.

C.H.S.S. REPORT

(By GORD REID)

On Monday, January 24th, Centre Hastings Secondary School played host to Bayside for a chance to enter the race for champion in the Ontario Safety Quiz. Bayside won with a score of 155 compared to 145 for C.H.S.S. This contest is to broaden the knowledge of students in the field of home, boat, car, business and everyday safety.

Bayside will compete against Trenton in mid-February. This contest will be televised by Channel eleven, Kingston. Members of C.H.S.S. team are Linda Widdows, Don Kirkpatrick, Brent Hegadorn and Don Deroche.

On the evenings of the 17th and 24th, Parent's Night was held at C.H.S.S. The first date, parents with air names from A-N saw teachers. The second date, the names from O-Z were interviewed. Parents Night gave parents and teachers a chance to discuss the various students.

Benefit Night Held At Hayloft

Last Saturday night, a benefit dance for the McLuckie family, who were burnt out at Flint on about three weeks ago, was held in The Hayloft at Flint on Park. Due to the rain that afternoon, the roads became so icy they were almost impassable, until some of the dance guests sanded the road leading to the Hayloft. In spite of these conditions, a good crowd attended and thoroughly enjoyed the music donated by the Country Four. Snowmobile accessories donated by Hagerman's Sports and Cycle, Hulins Garage and Farm Supply, Grant Brett Skidoo Sales, Tweed Motor Car Sales, Coves Marine, Carters Supply, Western Tire, Bob Woods Motors, Holmes Service Station and Brookside Car Inn were raffled off. On behalf of the McLuckie family, Floyd McLuckie thanked their many friends and neighbours for their contributions both at and prior to the dance.

CARNA CAPERS '72

The Madoc and District Skating Club are practising every Tuesday and Wednesday night in preparation for their second annual ice show, "Carna Capers '72", which will be held on Saturday, February 19th at 7:30 p.m.

The theme of this year's show will be, "The Enchanted Toyland". There will be one hundred and five members of the Madoc club taking part. Some advanced members will be performing solos and duos along with some clown numbers, which were very popular with the crowd last year. Guests for this year's show will include Anne Warkentin, 11, and Jocelyn Nix, 12, who will do solos. These girls are both members of the Fort Henry Heights Figure Skating Club of Kingston. Darlene Street, 17, a gold medalist 6th test skater and an amateur coach with Fort Henry Heights Club, along with Pam Walters, 11, first runner-up in the Pre-Juvenile Eastern Ontario Sectionals, are members of the Kingston Figure Skating Club. From the Peterboro Skating Club, Miss Elaine Poaste and Mr. Stan Hughes who competed in the Novice Pairs section in the Canadian Championships at London, Ontario last week, finishing a strong second, beaten only by a very narrow margin for first place, will provide some very exciting skating in this ice carnival. The Club hopes to have Miss Dominion of Canada as their special guest, along with the Dairy Princess, and the Carnival Queen and her princesses. Programs are being printed through the courtesy of local merchants and will be available at the door. Advance tickets will be sold at Pigeon's Radio & T.V., Pro Hardware and by members of the executive. Admission will be Adults, $1.25; Students, 75c; and Children, 50c (12 - under); Family Rate, $4.00.

The Club is working on a guest appearance, but plans have not been finalized as yet. They are hoping for a packed arena, as a lot of time and work by the skating instructor, Rhonda MacKnight, and the president, Annette Taylor, in lining up the guests has gone into the skating Clubs contribution to the Madoc Winter Carnival.

The Club is looking for some mothers or any women willing to help dress the children on this night of the show. Anyone willing to help with alterations of the costumes would also be appreciated. As well, men are required to help with the scenery that night. Anyone who is available, will be or see please phone Annette Taylor 473-2971. All help will be greatly appreciated.

A TRUE STORY

(By MANLEY BAUMHOUR)

When I was a young lad, about seventeen years old, I had started to work out. Mr. U. A. Hubble had bought a block of standing timber from Mr. Jonathan Drinkwater, a young man at that time. He hired a gang of men to peel the hemlock trees for the tan-bark which was very useful in those days. It was used for tanning hides for leather to be made into harness and boots. The timber was on the lot where Mr. Drinkwater lived, on the south end near little Port Hope Lake. That lake was about one half mile south of Poydash Lake and about four miles from where Hubble Mill used to stand before they moved it to Oxtunge Lake (about twelve miles from Huntsville).

The Jonathan Drinkwater place was sold to a Mr. Bates and it was known to the younger generation as the Bates Place. Mr. Hubble had no mill at that time so he hired a mill from Mr. Austin Gould and cut the logs into lumber that was cut out of the timber. It was peeled for tan bark. My father and George Clark felled the trees and another man ringed them around about four feet and split the bark so the man peeling off the bark could get his spud under the bark.

Mr. Bob Jackson, a farmer, had the misfortune to get his leg broken the winter before and had just recovered. Mr. Hubble hired him to come up and spud. He was a first class spudder and so he came up. He had only worked about half a day when he heard a noise above him and he looked up just in time to get a falling limb on the head. It hit him just at the hair line and it peeled the skin right back off the bone. It was about four inches in diameter. It knocked him down and as I was only a few feet from him I yelled for help and men came running to see what was the matter. They took a handkerchief and tied it around his head to hold the skin into place. They carried him out of the woods by the legs and arms. The men that carried him out were my father, Martin Baumhour, George Clarke, Norris Switzer and Henry Woodcock. (He is a brother to Mr. Archie Woodcock, who recently lost his son Frank, who was buried in the White Lake Cemetery the day before Christmas of this year. Archie lives one mile west of Bancroft and Frank lived near Eldorado. Henry moved to Alberta and died there. Archie Woodcock is living yet and he is 93 years old now.)

Henry was the foreman at this time, and on landing Bob to the farm house of Mr. Drinkwater, he went down to the shore of Potash Lake, where he got a boat and a pair of oars. He rowed the boat to Wadsworth's landing. Then he took the road from there and went to

HIGH WINDS LIFT ROOF

Telephone systems and electrical power were interrupted yesterday when winds up to 55 m.p.h. hit the area.

The garbage cans and other lightweight loose objects in the Village were strewn across the streets. Many Christmas trees were picked up in the back yards and deposited in the streets or on other lawns as gusts of wind swept the Village. Minor damages occurred in the area. Most seriously damaged was the roof of the Canadian Tire Store here early in the day.

Proprietor, Ken Nielsen, said that an area of 1,000 square feet was lifted right off the building.

He said that the whole roof will have to be renewed. Although an estimate of the damage was not available at press time, it is totally covered by insurance.

Travel in the countryside was reported treacherous as weekend and Monday night freezing rains formed a sheet of ice across the roads. Numerous cars were ditched, but no serious damage was reported. A number of school buses were cancelled yesterday, but with the sand trucks kept on the roads all day long, roads were opened up and bus routes got back to normal this morning.

Cars travelling south on Hwy. 62 were forced to a near halt at the railway overpass by Moira Lake, where a live wire was down stretching across the pavement. Traffic was slowed as drivers cautiously crossed over the wire until it was removed.

COMMUNITY CENTRE BOARD HOLDS MEETING

A meeting of the Community Centre Board was held last night, Tuesday, January 25th, 1972.

Chairman, Robert Kirkwood, opened the meeting.

Election of Officers for 1972 brought about the following executive: Chairman, Harry Brown; Vice-Chairman, Ross Clarke; Secretary, Wayne Hagerman; Curling Club Representative, Bob Bateman; Skating Club, Mrs. Lillian Nolan; Minor Sports, Marvin Johnston; High School, Allan Armstrong; Public School, Charles Gordon.

The board is going to approach the Village Council concerning a by-law to enforce willful damage caused to the arena by any person. Children caught doing willful damage in the arena will be put out and not allowed back in, until they bring their parents either to the Community Centre Board or the Village Council. This by-law will be strictly enforced by Don Bailey, the rink Manager, and backed by every member of the Community Centre Board.

A Committee was formed to investigate the holes in the arena roof and a possible way to repair same.

Another Committee, consisting of Marvin Johnston, Charles Gordon, Bob Bateman and Bob Kirkwood was set up to commence with plans to construct a dressing room, wash rooms and a new canteen at the Ball Park.

Correspondence from the Skating Club, Curling Club, Intermediate Hockey Club and the High School were read and filed.

MADOC AND DISTRICT SENIOR CITIZENS CLUB

The Madoc and District Senior Citizens Club held their regular meeting at the United Church basement on Wednesday, January 19th. Mr. Gordon Pigeon of Hastings Cable Vision was present to speak on the subject of the Club putting on some programs for their Sunday night show. He made a number of suggestions and it was decided to make arrangements for this soon. The meeting then opened with President, Mrs. Broadworth, in the chair. She spoke a word of welcome to all and gave a short humorous reading. Roll call showed an attendance of 41 members. The minutes of previous meeting were read by secretary, Mrs. Johns.

Correspondence was dealt with. A number of "thank you" cards were read from those who had been remembered by the Club at Christmas.

Mrs. Broadworth asked each lady to bring a tea towel to the next meeting. If any of the members hear of any one ill or bereaved, would they please let the Sick and Visiting Committee know. Members having Birthdays in January were called to the front and "Happy Birthday" was sung for Mrs. Thompson and Mr. George Moorcroft. A very special "Happy Birthday" was expressed for Mrs. O'Riordan, the oldest member, who is 85. She was presented with a small gift.

The next meeting will be held on February 2nd at the usual time and place, when Mr. Grant Ketcheson will be showing pictures of his recent trip overseas. Lunch committee for this meeting is Mrs. Farrow, Mrs. Yearwood, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. G. Moorcroft and Mr. G. Moorcroft. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing various games. A social cup of tea brought another pleasant afternoon to a close.

Don't forget the next meeting, February 2nd.

Bancroft's New Arena Receives Grant

The recently-completed new arena at Bancroft, the "North" Hastings Community Centre, has received a $30,000 grant.

During a brief ceremony in the new building, Mr. Clarke T. Rollins, M.P.P. Hastings, presented a cheque in the amount of $20,000 to Bancroft Reeve Jack Brown for the Village's portion of the grant. A second cheque, for $10,000, was presented by Mr. Rollins to Reeve Jack MacKenzie, of Faraday Twp., as the townships portion of the grant. The cheques were issued by the Honorable William Stewart of the Department of Agriculture.

Arrest Follows Hit-Run Accident

A man has been charged with failing to remain at the scene of an accident following a hit-and-run incident in Bancroft, last Saturday evening.

Apparently, a car driven by Annie Ray, of Bancroft, was making a left turn on Highway 62, seven miles north of Madoc when it was struck broadside by another vehicle.

The vehicle then drove off. Constable Bill Young of OPP, Madoc, made the arrest four hours after the accident.

Albert Clark, 38, of McArthur Mills, was also charged with careless driving. McArthur Mills is located between Denbigh and Bancroft.

According to police, damage to both cars was estimated at $600.

MEMORIES OF THE JALNA BOOKS

By BILL SMILEY

A lot of people would give their eye-teeth for some free publicity in this column for whatever they're selling. In fact, I have a large case of mounted eye-teeth which I haven't bothered returning.

For once, I'll make an exception. In this case, it's a plug for a television series. I'm not much of a T.V. hound. Most of the content is aimed at the 12-year-old mentality; and this is an insult to a bright 12-year-old.

Three BBC series, however, were done well enough to interest me. They were The Wives of Henry VIII, this year's Elizabeth R. and The Forsyte Saga. In each case we had superb entertainment, without the violence, off-colour jokes and utter inanity which characterize so many well-known and avidly followed shows. I might add that one reason they appealed to me was that they were not trying to be "significant", merely good drama.

I remember saying to my wife, during the span of the Forsyte family, "Wouldn't the Jalna novels make a wonderful series?" She agreed, whereupon I put a nick in the doorpost. I do this every time she agrees with me. There are three nicks there now. Of course, we've only had this house for ten years.

Now we have it. A Canadian series, produced by the CBC, which can turn out first-class stuff when the creative people manage to wiggle out from under the heavy, far-from-green thumbs of the administrators. The Jalna series.

Mazo de la Roche, creator of the Jalna novels, will never be ranked with Shakespeare or Dickens. But she was an excellent craftsman, with a shrewd knowledge of the reading public, able to blend romanticism and realism into a mixture that had a universal appeal.

It was the same old story. Practically unknown in Canada, she submitted her novel Jalna to a U.S. contest and won the Atlantic Monthly prize of $10,000 (I believe), for best novel of the year.

She had found a vein of gold. Like Ian Fleming, who wrote the James Bond nonsense, and that character who churns out the Carry On Doctor stuff, she mined her lode to the depths, extracting every last nugget, and even panning for grains toward the end. Don't mistake me; she was a far better writer than the others mentioned.

The novels deal with a large, extremely complex family, the Whiteoaks, living on a big farm near Lake Ontario, and it covers several generations.

Our pioneer ancestors were about as much like the Whiteoaks as Pierre Trudeau is like me. And Jalna is about as real in rural 19th-century Canada as Camelot was in the barbaric dark ages. But this is part of the charm. They're escape novels, in the best sense of the word. Yet, the author creates characters who are not only attractive but memorable. And the love-hate relationships within the family are believable, because they are familiar.

I predict a run on the Jalna novels, if the TV series is any good. Regardless, treat yourself. They are available in most public libraries.

A little incident during the war proved to me that, despite their regionalism, the novels have an international appeal.

It was about May 2nd, 1945. The Russians had just "liberated" our prison camp. They were pretty drunk and disorderly, still celebrating May 1st, one of their big holidays, and they let us out for the evening. (Next day they locked us all up again).

But we had one glorious spring evening of freedom. I set off for the little town near the camp with Nils Jorgensen, a huge Norwegian who spoke German.

We watched the Russians still pouring into the town, a motley and colourful crew. I remember a huge Cossack-looking type, with vast moustaches, riding a stallion. Slung over one shoulder was a machine-pistol. Dangling from his saddle was a balalaika. On his other shoulder perched a tiny monkey. So help me!

We drifted into town, watched the Yanks picking up German girls, or trying to. We saw a big house, set back among the trees. Went up and knocked, out of curiosity. A frightened old woman finally opened the door a crack. Nils spoke gently to her in German. She scuttled away. After a few moments, a stately, white-haired lady with a great poise appeared, and imperiously demanded to know what we wanted.

Nils said we were just visiting, told her we were P.O.W.'s, a Norwegian and a Canadian.

She turned to me, and in stilted but grammatical English, asked eagerly, "You know ze Whiteoaks of Jalna?"

I confessed that I didn't know them personally, but we had a lively conversation about Rennie, the old uncle, Finch, and the other characters, followed by a cup of ersatz coffee. Just a little incident, but one I'll never forget.

All this free publicity should gratify the CBC. But I warn them that if the series is rotten, I shall tear them, scorch them, fry them, and boil them in their own oil.

KELLERS BRIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Gray of Oshawa and Mr. Carl Gray of Belleville were supper guests Friday night of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wood.

BOARD OF EDUCATION HOLDS LENGTHY MEETING

The regular meeting of the Hastings County Board of Education was held in the Board Room, 208 Bridge St. East, Belleville on Monday evening, January 10th, 1972, with all sixteen members present (one vacancy due to the death of J. Follis).

Secretary E. Runacres called the meeting to order and indicated that an election for Chairman of the Board for 1972 would be the first item of business, with procedures to be used as listed in Board Policy. He named Messrs. Stirling and Wormald as scrutineers.

Voting for the office of Chairman was then carried out and after all the ballots had been distributed, collected and counted, the Board Secretary was advised by the scrutineers of the result. Secretary Runacres then announced that Trustee Donald Williams had received a majority of the votes cast and in accordance with Section 43 (3) of the Schools Administration Act, declared Trustee Donald Williams as Chairman of the Board for 1972.

The newly elected Chairman then assumed the chair and in his inaugural remarks he first extended his appreciation to the Board for their confidence and support during the year 1971. He noted that during the past year the Board had succeeded in streamlining the administration and had also established excellent relations with the teaching staff.

Looking ahead at 1972, Mr. Williams suggested certain areas to which the Board should give careful consideration.

The Chairman closed his inaugural remarks by expressing appreciation on behalf of the Board to the press and radio for the excellent coverage given by them to educational matters during the past year.

Chairman Williams then proceeded with the election of a Vice Chairman of the Board using, in accordance with Board Policy, the same procedures as for the election of a Chairman. Mr. Macdonald Smith was declared to be Vice-Chairman of the Board for 1972.

Chairman Williams then appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. Fairman, Forbes and Spry to bring in a recommendation for Board appointed members to the Advisory Vocational Committee for 1972 for ratification by the Board at their next regular meeting in January.

Mrs. J. Hutchison — R. M. Waller — J. Forbes — that the Board approve in principle the Professional Development Program in 1972 - The Hastings County Board of Education" with the understanding that the recommended money allotments for each of the programs as indicated in the booklet be subject to review at budget time.

An extensive discussion was held concerning the variety of courses and options, presently being conducted in the secondary schools and the suggestion was made by the Director of Education that a presentation by a group of Secondary School Principals could be arranged for a future meeting of the Board. The Board agreed that such a presentation would be most helpful.

Chairman Williams mentioned two upcoming conferences. He hoped that at least two or three of the trustees would be able to attend each of these conferences and indicated that any trustee who would be interested in going should contact L. F. Reid.

Chairman Williams also issued an invitation to trustees and members of the Administration to attend a concert by the choir from Fisher Park Collegiate, Ottawa. LETTER to the EDITOR82-Wellington St.,
Kingston, Ontario

The Editor,
Madoc Review,
Madoc, Ontario.

Dear Editor:

I have noticed, of late, the modifications made to our local paper and compliment you on these tasteful changes.

I feel that to further enhance "our" paper we need more local contributions, namely, from our local politicians. We are well acquainted with the work by our local council (and Chamber of Commerce) and by our local provincial member of Parliament. Clarke Rollins M.P.P., has I feel, acquired more roads, bridges and grants of money than any previous M.P.P. I have no quarrel with his actions for we see his endeavours. On the other hand, what have our two Federal representatives ever done for our riding? I would like to know their opinions on matters before them.

We receive two other papers, The Gravenhurst News and The Picton Gazette, both of which have articles by their local M.P.'s almost weekly. They express opinions and explain current legislation. As I see it, this is the least we can expect from our two high-priced representatives. Records kept on member's contributions in the Houses of Parliament here at Queen's do not show two very aggressive gentlemen. Perhaps they could enlighten us on what they are doing or thinking in future issues of the Madoc Review.

AROUND THE HOUSE WITH CURLING

In the past two weeks, we have dealt with guards, what they are and when to use them. This week we will deal with the subject of when to remove guards.

Stones have a bad habit of stopping in front of the rings and, being made of granite seven inches high and a foot wide, when several of them congregate they can be pretty formidable obstacles. Guards have to be removed if you want to clear an open road to the "house".

First, select the guard you want to remove and decide where you want to hit to move other guards. Then put your broom down with sufficient ice to do the trick. Get in the hack, blot all stones out of your mind, decide on what weight to throw and concentrate only at aiming at the broom.

Keep these thoughts in mind when removing guards:

1. How much weight are you throwing.
2. Swing at the broom and not the stone you are trying to remove.
3. Use the turn that pulls the most when removing a guard. If you use a straight run in the ice, you will likely hit the guard full on and stay. If you do not remove both the guard and the one you have just thrown, then your shot has been wasted.
4. If two guards are involved the one that is most troublesome should be removed. That is, open up the side that pulls the most, and not the side where there is a run. It is easier for the opposition to replace a stone that is situated on the run.
5. If the guard covers a shot rock, try to run the guard through onto the shot rock and split them both.
6. If two guards are side by side and a stones width apart, play a follow-through shot. Play to go between the shots.
7. When two guards lie close together but one ahead of the other, play the corner of the front stone.
8. When a guard is on the front ring or just in front of the house, play quiet weight to save your stone so that it will roll to the side rings.

9. When deciding on amount of ice to remove a shot, keep in mind the possibility of a double play if stone is hit on corner or the chance that your stone may roll to be hidden by a guard.
10. Do not act hastily or wait too long before deciding to remove the guard, but as soon as your decision has been made, act at once.

These are a few hints to remember the next time you are faced with an opposition stone in the house and it is hidden or partially so by a guard.

CURLING PATTERN

After seven weeks of curling, we find Dick Jones still out in front of the pack with seven wins and no losses to his credit. Dick has now taken a vacation to the south and his team will be left in the capable hands of his second and lead.

Diane Dyck has left Tom Burnside's team to take up her wifely duties. We will miss Diane, but in her place Tom will have Audrey Dafeo who has been playing vice for Norm Whytock. Norm will add Mary Jo Campbell to his team at vice position.

At the Tweed men's spell Madoc had two teams represented. The team of Cyril Shaw, Francis Bosley, Ab Fox and Ron Devolin came home with three defeats, while the team of Dave Burnside, Laurie and Dave Trotter and Doug McCoy had the record of one win and two defeats. Both teams curled well but neither were in the prizes.

This weekend, the Madoc club will be holding their Men's Bonsel. This will be on Friday evening and all day Saturday. At the present time both draws are expected to be filled. Come out and see some good curling action.

ST. PETER'S W.M.S.

Mrs. Hawkes was hostess for the first meeting of the new year of St. Peter's W.M.S. Thirteen members and one visitor were present.

In the call to worship, the president expressed the thought that each of us has been given a "new year" with its opportunities for Christian service and witness and to help in bringing peace and goodwill among the nations of the world.

Hymn 606, "All the way my Saviour leads me," was sung, with Mrs. Blakely as pianist.

The scripture lesson included two portions, Luke 10: 38-42 and John 11: 1-9. Mrs. Bailey led in prayer.

The installation of the officers of the society was conducted by Rev. Hawkes, who read from the Book of Acts 4: beginning at the 23rd verse. In his brief explanation of the passage, he urged the members to work together in unity of spirit, thus strengthening their witness to others.

Hymn 553, "Jesus Calls us o'er the tumult," was sung.

The convener of the programme, Mrs. McIntosh read two poems, "God Knows", and "Faith in the New Year."

The lesson from the study book was the story of Martha, the elder sister, who had a heart full of love and devotion to her master, Jesus taught Martha the lesson to not be too attentive to unnecessary things while the one thing of securing eternal salvation was alone absolutely needful.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

Trinity U.C.W., Unit 2

The January meeting of Trinity U.C.W., Unit 2 was held in the Sunday School Auditorium. There were twelve members and two visitors present. Roll call was answered by paying fees.

Mrs. Howard Stickwood had a very impressive Worship Service. Hymn "Lead on, O King Eternal", was sung. Scripture Reading was taken from Philippians 3, verses 7 to 15. The meditation "New Beginnings For a New Year" was very appropriate and thought-provoking.

Miss Olive Ashe reported on the Budget as planned for this year. Forty-one calls were reported.

Mrs. Delbert Carman had charge of the Programme. Using maps, she

INTERMEDIATES LOSE TO TWEED, DEFEAT GOSPORT

The Madoc Canucks travelled to Tweed last Saturday night and provided some very keen competition for the league's first-place B.P. Oil Kings there. The many fans who braved the icy roads to see the match witnessed a good clean game of serious hockey. Although Tweed took a 1-9 lead in the first period, Madoc came from behind and took over the lead in the second, before they were finally defeated 5-2 by the host team.

After 44 seconds on the ice in the first period, Tweed opened the scoring on a goal by Doug Chisholm. The remainder of the period went scoreless, with some good defensive work keeping the puck out of the nets. In the second period both teams played all round good hockey and kept the spectators in suspense with fast-moving plays. At the 3:28 mark, Madoc's Ron Powell whipped one in off the sticks of Harold Bailey and Lloyd Acorn. After a series of shots on goal and exciting end-to-end rushes, Don McCrae gave the Canucks a 2-1 lead, assisted by Ron Powell and Bob Chapman. The locals held their lead until the 18:44 mark, when Tweed's Grant Hagerman tied up the score again.

The third period saw the Canucks suffer a costly set-back when they lost a player to the penalty box for a two minute count. Tweed, taking advantage of their extra man on the ice, scored two goals during those couple of minutes, and despite an excellent effort, the Canucks were unable to make up for the difference.

Larry Charlton in the Tweed net managed some very lucky saves when the Madoc lads rushed in with a number of shots. The Tweed team rounded out the scoring with a final goal at the 15:46 mark.

Even though they were defeated, the Canucks are to be commended for their good team effort at Saturday night's game. The many familiar faces from Madoc in the crowd of over 300 people shows that the lads are playing hockey worth coming out to see — no matter what the weather. The players are very pleased that they have so many loyal supporters.

Playing at home on Sunday night before a good crowd, the Madoc Intermediates downed Gosport 8-4 in another well-played game.

The first half of the opening period went scoreless, but in the last eight minutes Madoc took a 4-1 lead over their visitors. At the 12:34 mark, Terry Chapman, assisted by Glenn Graham and Vic Conte, opened the scoring. The three ensuing goals for the Canucks were: time, 16:18, Ralph Francis, assisted by Terry Chapman; 18:46, Chuck Mills, assisted by Harold Bailey; and 19:00 Terry Chapman, assisted by Ralph Francis. In the second period, Madoc added three more goals, giving themselves a 7-1 lead over Gosport before Gosport scored their second goal of the night at the 15:22 mark. Madoc's three goals here were scored as follows: 1:34, Ralph Francis, assisted by Glenn Graham and Terry Chapman, 10:49, Ralph Francis, assisted by Terry Chapman, 11:29, Terry Chapman assisted by Glenn Graham and Ralph Francis.

The final stanza saw Gosport score two goals by the 12:48 mark, replied to with a goal for Madoc by Vic Conte assisted by Bob Chapman and Free Free.

Each team had served five penalties during the game, so considering that they were playing on an equal basis, most of the time, the wide margin in the score shows that good hockey can be expected of the Canucks at future games.

Ralph Francis and Terry Chapman are to be congratulated for each scoring three of the eight goals. As well, Terry assisted on three others and Ralph assisted on two. Glen Graham picked up three assists during the game also.

This Friday night the Canucks meet the Frankford squad in Frankford at 8:30. On Sunday night, a game is scheduled for eight o'clock at the local arena.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN MEETING IN KINGSTON

The annual meeting of the Kingston Presbyterian Women's mission-ary Society was held last Wednesday at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Kingston. Upon arrival the ladies were welcomed by the President, Mrs. Williamson, and enjoyed the hospitality of morning coffee. The theme for the day - We Must Serve - was beautifully developed during the worship service. Candles were lighted to represent missionaries at home and abroad, the light of love binding man to man, and man to God. Mrs. A. Grier welcomed the ladies to St. Andrew's. During the business meeting, plans were made to send delegates to the Synodical meeting at Lindsay, April 18 to 20. These will be the president, vice-president, treasurer, supply secretary and literature secretary.

After a considerable discussion, it was decided to retain the year-end as November 30.

Treasurer, Mrs. Craig, brought home the importance of everyone's financial obligation to the society. During 1971, the Society reached 83 per cent of its financial target - an increase over the preceding year but still short of that target. With her question "If you had to decide where to curtail our programme, what would you do?", she left everyone with the feeling that they must do better in 1972.

Mrs. H. Keefer spoke concerning reports. While sometimes these may seem routine, perhaps tiresome and unnecessary, they do have great value. If there are no reports, how can others - notably Synodical and Council - know what the Society is doing? Another point she brought out is that reports provide an avenue for sharing of ideas, and sometimes are a real inspiration to fellow groups.

During the noon recess, a delicious buffet lunch was served by the ladies of the Women's Home Association of St. Andrew's. A new idea of the president - place cards, bearing names of persons working in the mission fields, were on the tables. Each lady was asked to try to find out about "her" missionary, perhaps to correspond, and bring back to the next meeting news of interest. Dr. Putnam welcomed the ladies to St. Andrew's. Rev. Murphy, Moderator for the Kingston Presbytery, brought greetings.

The guest speaker at noon was Miss Lois Watts, a student at Ontario Business College in Belleville. She has recently spent a year in Ghana with her family. Her father is with the Armed Forces as Military Adviser for Canada. Miss Watts talked of the people of Ghana, how much she liked them, and yet how hard it is to understand their ways that are so different from ours. She showed some interesting souvenirs of her stay in Ghana.

The afternoon session commenced with a service of remembrance; a traditional part of each annual meeting. Miss Jean Callum of Kingston, sang, "Let There Be Peace on Earth".

The ladies separated into four discussion groups: Finance, led by Mrs. J. Craig; Presidents, Mrs. W. Weir; Programme, Mrs. K. Denton Taylor; and the future of the W.M.S., with Mrs. B. Keefer.

The last business of the afternoon was the election of officers for 1972, and a service of installation conducted by Dr. Putnam. Some of these officers are: Hon. President, Miss Frieda Matthews, Belleville; President, Mrs. G. R. Williamson, Trenton; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Sam Cross, Roslin; 3rd Vice-President, Mrs. Denton Taylor, Belleville; Recording Secretary, Mrs. F. B. Sheffield, Belleville; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. W. J. B. McLaren, Trenton; Treasurer, Mrs. John Craig, Belleville; Glad Tidings, Mrs. H. Thompson, West Huntingdon; Life Membership, Mrs. John Bailey, Madoc.

The afternoon concluded with a cup of tea and cookies. The ladies departed with the happy thought that all would assemble again for the spring rally, at Stirling, probably on May 31st.

MILK SUPPLY and QUOTA ADJUSTMENT

(D. Ptolemy, O.M.M.B. Fieldman, Region 4)

In the last Farm News Column, the problem of over production of your annual market share quotas (MSQ) was discussed and producers in this position were urged to contact me if they had any questions on this point.

The opposite situation to the above is the producer who has failed to produce 75% of his annual quota and will be penalized for under production. As the dairy year 1971-72 draws nearer to the closing date of March 31, 1972, a number of producers are facing this situation.

As the original MSQ's were based on the greater of a producer's production or his CDC subsidy quota in the base year, (April 1969 - March 1970) any producer who is in difficulty with the penalty clause has in all probability:

1. Shipped much less milk than he did in the base period, or
2. Had a CDC subsidy quota in the base period that was much higher than his production.

The MSQ that will be used for application of the 75 per cent penalty clause will be the original quota granted to a producer on December 1, 1970, plus available quota on any purchased after November 1, 1971.

The penalty clause will NOT apply to the increase granted to all producers on September 1, 1971.

The penalty clause will NOT apply to the increase granted to Group 1 producers as a result of the MSQ collected from graduated entry producers in exchange for free Group 1 quota and returned to producers in the Group 1 pool on September 1st.

The penalty clause will NOT apply to any portion of quota purchased before October 30, 1971. This is because the Board feels producers did not understand the 75 per cent clause in enough detail before this date. The penalty clause WILL apply on the quota available this year on reallocations effective November 1, 1971 and after.

The Canadian Dairy Commission has not finalized their decision with respect to the application of the 75 per cent penalty clause on subsidy quotas. As soon as a decision is announced it will be publicized, but for the present we must assume the 75 per cent penalty clause will be applied on the subsidy quota available in the 1971-72 dairy year.

In both cases the penalty that would be applied would be the difference between your shipments (if under 75 per cent) and 75 per cent of your quota. That is if you had an original MSQ of 100,000 lbs. of milk and you shipped 73,000 lbs. of milk the penalty would be (75 per cent of 100,000) 75,000 less 73,000 equals 2,000 lbs. of milk and your new quota for 1972-73 dairy year would be 100,000 less 2,000 which is 98,000 lbs. of milk.

Once again I urge any person who has questions about his individual situation to contact me at my office number 962-4200. Also I will be in the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food office in Stirling on Thursday afternoon, February 3rd for those who wish to contact me there.

The onus, of necessity, is on the individual to assess his own situation. If you are under quota and wish to transfer some to another producer, these transfers must be made prior to April 1, 1972 to escape the penalty clause.

Mailing 22.2 million booklets is a big job.

Tax reform legislation has been passed by Parliament and is now law.

What does tax reform mean to you? How will it affect you?

To answer these questions, the Department is conducting a massive national mailing program. Booklets are now being printed and mailed to all taxpayers as quickly as they come off the press.

The complete mailing will be finished in about three weeks.

All taxpayers will receive at least two booklets -

"Highlights for Individuals" and "Valuation Day". These should provide answers to most of your questions.

Some taxpayers will receive additional information, according to their specific needs.

Read your booklets. Afterwards, if you have questions, ask us. We'll be glad to help.

You will find that your booklets will make it easier to file your income tax return in 1973, because they will help you to prepare now.

It is time for snowmobiling to "grow up" - to mature. The individual snowmobiler has the answer to this problem in his own hands every time he starts his machine and grasps the controls. The future of snowmobiling depends on you - be a RESPONSIBLE OPERATOR!

TARGET TALK

The Madoc District Hunter's and Anglers Club held the first rifle shoot of 1972 on Sunday, January 16th. Thirteen marksmen were present and eight rounds were fired. The size of the bulls eye has been changed from 1 1/2 inches to 3/4 of an inch on all three sight classifications. This, it was felt, will do away with so many perfect scores. The winners for the day were: Round 1, L. Carman, 100 yds.; Round 2, Gerry Donaldson, 100 yds.; Round 3, F. Donaldson, 100 yds.; Round 4, Gus Donaldson, 50 yds.; Round 5, J. Quinn, 50 yds.; Round 6, J. Foley, 50 yds.; Round 7, Glen Donaldson, 50 yds.; Round 8, Dale Donaldson, 50 yds.

The point system has begun anew and, with the smaller bulls-eye, no perfect scores in class 1 were recorded. Class 2 has two scores of 30, which represents a perfect score, and class 3, has one perfect score of 20 points. Here then are the points accumulated for the day.

Name	Class 1	Class 2	Class 3
Gus Donaldson	29	29	8
Joe Quinn	28	30	15
M. Quinn Sr.	28	26	13
L. Carman	28	30	14
G. Donaldson	28	28	15
R. Grass	27	24	13
L. Hicks	26	28	14

F. Donaldson	24	27	20
D. Donaldson	0	25	15
D. Davidson	0	23	6
L. Neal	0	0	13

The next shoot will be held on February 13th, beginning at 1:30 p.m. See you there!

12th with Mrs. Fred Bosley as hostess.

Mrs. Roy Rollins was in charge.
The roll call, "Something I would change if I had the authority" was answered by 15 members and one visitor.

Correspondence was read. Thank you notes were read from Mrs. Allan Sager, Mrs. John Rauws and Miss Frances Laton.

It was decided that Mrs. Roy Rollins should go to the 75th Anniversary Luncheon of the F.W.I.O.

in February.

Letters were read from Mrs. Zoeller, past president and Mrs.
Harvey Noblett, President of the F.W.I.O.

It was decided not to sponsor a 4-H Club this time, as the leaders are unable to attend training school.

There was a discussion on summary day, "Tricks with Knits" to be held on January 18th in Stirling.

The members decided to purchase a flag for the W.I. Hall.

the members.

The program was on Resolutions.
As the convener, Mrs. Carl Gordon was unable to attend, Miss Roberta Sager read a selection, "It's my life, isn't it?" Mrs. Ken Cassidy also gave a reading, "Dare to make a mistake".

The meeting was closed with the Queen and lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants and a social time enjoyed by all.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

(By BEV. BROWNING)

With each column that appears under the above heading, I receive different comments from different people. Such encouraging comments as, "I don't read that column" or "It's too boring" to "You wrote an excellent column last week". A son of one of our local merchants who is teaching up in the Bowmanville-Oshawa area once told me he reads the "Reform Report" (with a chuckle of course). Some comments are given to better my column, like, "Why don't you write something on snowmobile trails." To this I answered, "What snowmobile trails?" Well, I didn't quite answer it that way. It was more like "I can't write about that which I know very little about, but if you would like to write about the condition of trails I would see that it is published." But alas I have no takers.

This column has three purposes. The first part is a "Sports Comment".
Next the Minor Hockey game results from the past week are recorded and finally you may read some odds and ends from the sporting world.

Each week I usually try to expand some idea which, I must admit, may be opinionated, but left open for discussion. This week, however, no attempt will be made to discuss any point for comment. Oh, I thought I would mention the poor crowds attending our Minor Hockey games. But I won't do that. I guess I could comment that more people from visiting towns usually show up for our games than from our own local town. No...
I better not discuss that point either. I could ask "why" but alas, I guess I won't question that point because I'm not commenting on the other two points.

Well, if I'm not going to "comment" this week let's see what you missed last week in the Juvenile, Bantam, Pee-Wee and Novice games both home and away.

The Juveniles had a very quiet week. They didn't lose a game last week but then again they didn't win one, either. Their game with Trenton was postponed on account of wet roads.

In mid-February the local Juveniles will open their play-off schedule with Marmora. The winner will meet the winner of the Beaverton-Powassan series (where have I heard that name Powassan before?) in the next round.

The Madoc Bantams lost a 10-2 decision to Campbellford last Friday night. It was one of those games where everything went wrong. The fast-skating fore-checking Campbellford squad kept Madoc disorganized all night. Peter White scored both Madoc goals.

On Saturday the Bantams played in a tournament in Havelock. They lost the first game 4-2 to Warsaw, defeated Marmora 4-2 in the second game and lost to Keene 5-3 in the "Consolation" final. Peter White was a nominee for the most valuable player of the tournament but was nosed out by the Campbellford goalie.

The first round play-off set-up will see Madoc, Marmora and Wellington squaring off with the winner going on to the next round against the winner between Millbrook and Norwood.

The hottest team in town is the Madoc Legionaire Pee-Wees. Two weeks ago they had only one win to their credit but last week they tied Brighton 5-5 in Madoc, came from behind a 4-1 second period deficit to tie Bancroft 5-5 in Bancroft and Monday night they eked out Marmora in Marmora 5-4.

Five players shared the scoring in the Brighton game with John Watson, Larry Bailey, Mark Johnston, Glenn Brown and Sammy Bossio scoring the goals. Bailey added three assists. Bossio and Johnston picked up two assists each while Jim Moore was credited with one assist.

In Bancroft last Saturday, Larry Bailey had the hat trick (3 goals) while Glenn Brown added a pair of goals.

Monday in Marmora, Larry Bailey had his second hat trick in as many games while Glenn Brown again fired in a pair of goals. These two scores received a lot of help from Sammy Bossio (4 assists), Mark Johnston (2 assists) and Timmy McCann (1 assist). My spies claim that the secret to their success in Marmora was "fore-checking".

Pee-wee play-off set-up will be the same as the Bantams.

Madoc Novice played their strongest game of the season, even though they dropped a 3-1 decision to Campbellford. Donnie Moore from Stewart McEwen tallied Madoc's lone goal while Cameron Clarke played a strong game in the Madoc nets. Campbellford scored their third goal with fifteen seconds left in the game. Before Christmas this same Campbellford squad trimmed Madoc 8-1.

Games this week:

Juvenile — Thursday, January 27 - Marmora at Madoc (8:00 p.m.)

Saturday, January 29 - Madoc at Bancroft (6:00 p.m.)
